Credit Control Needed

PRESIDENT WANTS CONGRESS TO CONTINUE U. S. DIRECTION OF INSTALLMENT PURCHASES

WASHINGTON—(AP) — President Truman said today he wants congress to continue the government's power to control time-payment buying.

The question was raised at Mr. Truman's news conference by a reporter who noted that so-called "Regulation W" expires June 30. That is the regulation governing installment buying.

Some congress members and business men have been urging an end to the control. They argue that dropping them would mean a shot-in-the-arm to lagging sales of many controlled items.

The federal reserve board, which administers the controls, eased them a month ago, cutting the amount buyers must pay down on refrigerators, radios and some other products. The board also allowed more time to pay off the balance.

Still Fears Inflation.

Mr. Truman's remarks indicated he does not believe the danger of further inflation is ended.

But most business men seem to believe the odds now are strongly against it. They appear to be fairly scrambling to cut down on inventories and get out of debt.

Officials guessed today that the chief explanation for a record-breaking drop in business loans during the first week of April could be stated like this:

Scared of getting caught with large stocks of goods during a period of falling prices, many businessmen don't want to borrow to build up stocks; they are using proceeds from current sales to pay off old debts as fast as possible.

In any event, an unprecedented $277,000,000 plunge in business loans during the week ended April 6 climaxing a downslide that has been going on since Christmas.

Reports to the federal reserve board from banks in major cities across the country show the volume of commercial, industrial and agricultural loans outstanding has dropped $1,005,000,000 since last Dec. 22.

Still, the total business loan volume in the week ended April 6 was $14,627,000,000, or $197,000,000 above the level at the same time a year ago.

Officials said it was apparent that businessmen are trying to avoid a repetition of a major event in the depression of the early 1930s: The building up of stocks of goods that couldn't be sold at the going price, the calling of loans and consequent forced sales at sacrifice prices.

Insofar as they prevent a recurrence of that, it's all to the good, as officials see it here. The danger would be a panicky, unreasonable halt in buying that would bring widespread factory closings, laying off of workers and a consequent cut in consumer buying power.

But Secretary of the Treasury Snyder said there is every reason to have "confidence in the future," and that he had seen signs of a new upturn in business on recent trips to the midwest and to New England.

Flying Farmers Tour Postponed

The Flying Farmers soil conservation tour of Lancaster county scheduled for Friday, has been postponed indefinitely because of unfavorable weather, Reed Carsten, Clatonia, chairman of the arrangements committee, said Thursday.

Approximately 75 planes had been expected to arrive in Lincoln Thursday, and an all-day tour of the points of interest in Lincoln had been planned for Thursday afternoon.

School Levy Minimum Bill Moved Ahead

Unicameral Adjourns For Easter Recess

After a lackadaisical morning session, the legislature adjourned Thursday until 10 a. m. Monday. Several members had been excused for the day to permit them to get home for the Easter holiday.

Four bills were advanced on general file and a resolution passed extending condolences to the state of Washington for their earthquake damage.

Although considerable opposition was expressed to some provisions, LB 288 providing for a blanket uniform minimum county tax levy on all elementary school districts was advanced. The bill was introduced by Sens. Glenn Cramer and Dwight Burney and endorsed by the rural school boards association.

The bill has a three-fold purpose, Sen. Cramer said. It encourages abandoning of school districts with less than five pupils, all districts contribute to education and costs are equalized.

Under the bill a county levy based on two-thirds of the average county school cost, but not exceeding 4 mills will be made. In districts with five or more pupils, this tax will be credited to the district. Districts contracting for instruction also will receive up to the amount taxed o pay contract costs.

Balance of the money will be distributed with two-thirds going equally to all schools with more than five pupils and one-third on a daily attendance basis.

Sen. Cramer pointed out that the valuation of lands in the state now escaping school taxes is $4,370,276 and that 256 districts make no school levy. He said 800 districts have less than six pupils and 626 levy less than 4 mills not including those with no levy.

Unicam 'Dictator.'

The bill provides that where pupils have to travel five or more miles to another school of less than five pupils will be authorized by the county superintendent.

Sen. Frank Nelson of Holt county sought to have the minimum schools reduced to four and the mileage to four miles, but the amendment was defeated.

"Who's the dictator?" Sen. George Weborg of Pender shouted during the debate. "The "Who's the dictator?" Sen. legislature," Sen. William Metzger responded.

"The legislature dictates all its laws," Sen. Burney explained. "This bill like others is designed to be of benefit to all the state. Possibly a few may suffer, the majority will be helped."

The legislature also advanced LB 344 by Sen. Thomas Davies of Lincoln which provides a procedure whereby sexual psychopaths may be committed to state hospitals.

Also advanced were LB 341 clarifying the statutes relating to taxation of air carriers and LB 493 broadening the title of the motor vehicle financial responsibility law.

Scores Of Towns Isolated As Heavy Snow Disrupts Communications, Travel

Many Cars Are Stalled In Milford Area: Pre-Easter Storm Forecast To End Tonight

A pre-Easter snow and sleet storm, ranging up to a foot of snow at Gibbon and eight inches at Geneva and Aurora, crippled communications and power service as it roared across central and eastern Nebraska Thursday.

Scores of towns throughout the storm area are isolated from outside telephone communication and hundreds of long distance circuits are out.

The snow, combined with strong north winds, sleet and freezing rain which snapped phone lines and broke poles, was confined to the eastern half of the state, although at noon Scottsbluff reported snow had begun to fall there. The weather bureau said the snow at Grand Island, where five inches covered the ground, stopped falling about noon.

Many Cars Stalled.

At 2:00 p. m. the state highway department and state safety patrol reported roads generally blocked west of Milford, both by snow and snarled traffic. No. 6 was reported blocked west of Milford, and No. 2 and No. 34 west of Seward. Highway 92 was reported closed west from its junction with Highway 79 near Weston. Motorists were warned that all roads in the area were "very slick and dangerous."

The weatherman has promised clearing weather tonight following continued rain and snow this afternoon. Friday will be fair and warmer with temperatures expected to reach the 50s and 60s.

Phone Service Out.

Kearney reported four inches of snow, Beatrice two and a half, Hastings two and Seward three.

(Twelve communities in Seward and Saunders counties were without telephone service today, the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph company reported. Isolated towns were Bellwood, Octavia, Bruno, Rising City, Dwight, Utica, Tamora, Beaver Crossing, Cordova, Ulysses, Staplehurst, and Milford.

The telephone company also reported 70 poles down on a rural line east of Wilber with trouble mounting rapidly throughout the area.

Direct long distance lines are out of service from Lincoln to Hastings, Clatonia, Norfolk, Columbus, Hebron, Superior and Geneva with considerable local trouble reported on rural lines in the David City area from increasing ice formations on lines. A telephone company spokesman said trouble crews have been unable to reach the isolated areas due to the storm's intensity.

Consumers Public Power District also reported trouble in towns near Seward and York due to the extremely wet snow and high winds. Some lines in the rural areas near these towns were knocked down with a number of burned-out conductors reported. Crews were dispatched to these stations early Thursday to attempt to restore service.

At Kearney, observers said the new damage to phone and power lines appeared to be the worst of the year—a year marked by a discouraging succession of communications-damaging storms.

"Everything in the book hit the Kearney area, starting early Wednesday night," an observer there reported. There was a thunderstorm, hail, wind, sleet, snow and freezing rain.

Its normal power sources cut off, Kearney got electricity from a standby plant. The heavy coating of ice broke wires between every pole in the Kearney area.

Today's snowstorm came after temperatures Wednesday soared to a high of 76 degrees at Lincoln. Yesterday's low was 30 at Scottsbluff and Sidney. The mercury today stood in the 30s throughout most of the state.

Precipitation up to early Thursday included Chadron .29 of an inch, Grand Island .83, Hayes Center .06, North Platte .16, Scottsbluff .17, Sidney .04 and Valentine .23.

Thunderstorm Precedes Snow.

At Grand Island, the snow was preceded by a vigorous thunderstorm before midnight. Early this forenoon horizontal visibility at Grand Island was less than half a

Many Motorists Getting Stuck In Storm Area

The highway department said Thursday afternoon snow and traffic snarls were causing trouble on highways 6, 34-2 and 92 in the Milford, Seward-York and David City areas.

Clarifying an earlier report, the department said cars with chains could get through, but indicated many motorists without them were getting stuck, thus blocking traffic.

Earlier, it had reported visibility poor but all hard-surfaced roads open.

Reports were meager due to downed communication lines.

Many westbound cars and trucks were returning to Lincoln this afternoon after finding No. 6 blocked by snow west of Milford.

Still closed by bridge washouts in northeast Nebraska were highways 11, 20, and 108.

Snowstorm Halts Western Trip Of N. U. Ball Team

The University of Nebraska baseball team started out for Boulder, Colo., Thursday morning but got only as far as Milford before the bus they were traveling in bogged down in Nebraska's pre-Easter snowstorm.

The team was scheduled to meet the University of Colorado for games Friday and Saturday, and the University of Denver for two games the first part of next week. However, because of weather and road conditions the Friday game has been cancelled.

Players scheduled to make the trip west got a workout, nevertheless, when they were called upon to evacuate the bus and turn their athletic talents to getting the vehicle faced back toward Lincoln and moving again.

The players also pushed several stalled cars free from the snow.

—GOP Hospital Plan—

Help To States Is Offered

Substitute For National Health Scheme Calls For Development By Groups

WASHINGTON — (AP)—Three republican senators today introduced an aid-to-states substitute for the administration's national health plan. Their bill would provide upwards of $1,250,000,000 to help the states develop plans for extending medical and hospital services.

Sens. Taft (R-Ohio), H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) and Donnell (R-Mo) said their measure is based on the idea that "the primary responsibility in the field of health, welfare, education and housing rests with the state governments, and that there is no direct grant of power to the federal government in the constitution to deal with these questions."

Secondary Obligation.

The sponsors added in a statement, however, that "when the states in general fail to meet any basic health or welfare problem, because of inability to finance a satisfactory method of dealing with it, the secondary obligation of the federal government comes into play."

The bill contemplates federal expenditures of $1,250,000,000 over a five-year period to help states set up five-year plans for extension of medical and hospital services. The grant would start at $150,000,000 in the fiscal year beginning July 1, and reach $300,000,000 a year by fiscal 1952.

The federal contribution would range from 33 1/3 per cent of the total cost of the program in the wealthier states to 75 per cent for low-income states.

Colorful Mass Opens Vatican Holy Thursday

... Holy Oils Consecrated

VATICAN CITY—(AP)—Holy Thursday began here today with a colorful pontifical mass at St. Peter's Basilica during which holy oils produced at the church were consecrated.

The service, which lasted nearly two hours, was celebrated by Monsignor Francesco Beretti, titular bishop of Caesarea Philippi.

This will be followed by the maundy service in the evening—during which the papal altar will get a ritual cleansing with special holy oils and wines—commemorating the washing of Christ's feet before the last supper.

Local Power Interrupted By Storm

Lincoln Gets Over Half Inch Moisture

A driving sleet and snowstorm which struck Lincoln Thursday caused a 45-minute power interruption in the north and south residential areas and by early afternoon had brought .53 of moisture to the city.

The pre-Easter storm which started with rain early today, turned to sleet, and then to snow was sending water swirling in the gutters in the city. The snow at 2 p. m. was melting as it hit the ground.

Meanwhile, officials of the Consumers Public Power District reported that the power interruption here was caused by trouble on the main transmission line in the hydro network west of Hastings.

This trouble, according to officials, threw an over-capacity load on Omaha and Lincoln plants with the result that Lincoln had to disconnect some local lines in order to keep the plant operating. The local disruptions were cleared at approximately 9 a. m.

Clearing skies and temperatures near 52 degrees were forecast by the weather bureau for Friday with winds diminishing Thursday night. Lincoln's snowfall Thursday was reported at a little over an inch by the weather bureau.

Long Distance Hit.

Telephone lines felled by driving winds throughout the state put Lincoln long distance circuits to seven nearby towns out of order and left upward of 12 other communities entirely without service due to heavy ice formations on lines.

Slippery streets and blowing snow made city driving hazardous and unpaved roads throughout the county, particularly in the lowland areas, were reported ankle-deep in mud. The county engineer's office said Friday that grading and scraping operations started several weeks ago will have to be started over again after mud dries over.

Bus schedules were reported slow from Lincoln to Grand Island but all others were reporting on time.

$595 Million Veteran-Aid Bill Is Passed

... Sent To White House

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The senate today unanimously passed a house-approved measure appropriating $595,890,000 for veterans benefits. The bill now goes to the White House.

The measure was passed with little debate after Sen. Hayden (D-Ariz) informed the senate that three million veterans will be deprived of funds in 10 days unless the additional money is made available at once.

The funds will pay for tuition fees and supplies for former GIs in schools, on-the-job training payments, and unemployment allowances.

Although they entered no formal objection, republican policy leader Taft of Ohio, and GOP floor leader Wherry of Nebraska both questioned the circumstances which made it necessary to rush through the large emergency appropriation.

Cab Enroute To Doctor, Car Coming From Doctor Collide

... Two Taxi Passengers Hurt, Taken To Hospital

One party going to a doctor and another party coming from a doctor were involved in a two-car collision Thursday morning at the intersection of Fourteenth and M streets in which two persons were injured.

Injured were Mrs. Earl Elliott, 20, and Mrs. James Plock, 18, both of 3179 R street.

Mrs. Elliott received possible head injuries when she was thrown from the taxi-cab in which she was riding. Mrs. Plock received a sprained right wrist. Both were taken to Bryan Memoroal hospital.

Police said the two were riding in a cab driven by Cecil P. Merritt, 1227 J street, going west on M street when it collided with a car driven by Mrs. Bernard Gradwohl, 3000 Sheridan, going north on Fourteenth street.

Mrs. Elliott and her husband were taking their one-month old son, Robert, to a doctor's office for a routine check-up, when the accident occurred. Mrs. Gradwohl was returning from a doctor's office with her mother, Mrs. S. G. Mayer.

AID BILL SENT TO TRUMAN

... Compromise Approved

WASHINGTON—(AP) — Congress gave quick approval today to a compromise $5,580,000,000 European recovery program.

A few minutes after the authorization bill passed the house it was approved by the senate.

Both houses acted by voice vote. Now the measure goes to the White House for President Truman's approval.

The measure simply approves another 15 months of Marshall plan aid to Europe and sets a ceiling on the money to be spent. The cash must be provided later by appropriation.

The bill as finally passed was in the same form in which it came from a senate-house conference late yesterday. It provides just about everything the administration asked.

GOP Split On Policy Revealed

Disagreed On Whether To Wage Full-Scale War On Administration's Plan

BY JACK BELL

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A split among senate republicans over whether their party should launch an all-out attack on President Truman's legislative program came to the surface today.

On one side, Sen. Malone of Nevada repeated to a reporter what he said he told a closed meeting of many GOP senators yesterday:

"I don't think the republican party has any more policy than a cat. We're just following the democrats and have been ever since I've been here. (Malone was elected in 1946.) I'd like to see the republican party forget 'me too' and stand for something."

Taft Differ.

On the other side was Sen. Taft of Ohio, chairman of the GOP policy committee.

Taft confirmed that he told his colleagues at the meeting that the republican party will put itself in an "indefensible" position with the voters if it fights enactment of all public welfare legislation.

"If you deny the republican party's interest in the welfare of the low income people of this nation, there soon won't be any republican party," he declared.

Taft's views were warmly applauded by Sen. Tobey (R-NH), one of a group of 14 classed by Sen. Morse (R-Ore) as "liberals" who tried earlier in the year to replace the Ohioan as chairman of the policy committee.

"I could support him for president on the platform he laid down," Tobey said after the meeting.

A Lenten Season Prayer

"THE DEBT IMMENSE OF ENDLESS GRATITUDE"

And He took a cup, and when He had given thanks, He gave to them. Mark 14:23. Read 1 Corinthians 11:23-31.

His gratitude was not reserved for his times of popular acclaim; his resignation to the Father's will was so complete that on the night that he was betrayed, he gave thanks!

The Author of the universe, the Giver of every good and perfect gift, bestows now the gift of suffering to reclaim the fallen world. To praise him for the darkness as well as for the light is the mark of the Christian; to accept in gladness of heart a full share in the fellowship of Christ's sufferings, is his high privilege.

Through the centuries the Church has remembered her Lord in the breaking of bread and the drinking of the cup. And, as oft as she eats and drinks, gratitude is the theme. The Greek word for the Holy Supper literally means thanksgiving. Thus in the blessed fellowship is shown the meaning in its depth, unreserved praise for undeserved grace. On the one side, the divine initiative; on the other, the human response. First, the lavish generosity of God; then the fervent thanks of man. O give thanks unto the Lord for He is good; and His mercy endureth forever!

Let Us Pray: For Thy works mighty and small, we praise Thy name; and more deeply would we thank Thee, our Father, that Thou hast given us a share in the passion and the glory of Christ. Amen.

'Back To Christ Of The Gospel' Says Dr. Hoyer

"'Back to the Christ of the Gospels,' a slogan used in the church today, implies that a great many people have changed the picture of the historic Christ as given in the Scriptures," Dr. Theo Hoyer, of Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, Mo., said Thursday.

Dr. Hoyer spoke on the "Divine Sufficiency of the Cross," in the second of a series of Lutheran Holy Week services at the Varsity theater.

"The early apostles and disciples of Christ preached 'Jesus Christ and Him Crucified' as the sum total of God's saving Gospel," Dr. Hoyer said. "That is the touchstone of all modern preaching."

"He Is Saviour."

"Christ is not merely a teacher and a model of a perfect life, but above all, He is the Saviour who was wounded and crucified for our transgressions."

Dr. Hoyer continued by saying that this old gospel is still the message man needs for his salvation. It is God's revelation, as such cannot and must not be changed by men.

The situations in which we find ourselves today have not changed, he added. "We still fall short of the divine program."

"However, Paul's answer to the Philippian jailor when asked the all important question, 'What must I do to be saved?' is still true today. 'Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved.'"

The liturgical portion of the service was led by Rev. J. G. Jacobsen. The Trinity girls' choir under O. H. Sunderman sang "Stricken, Smitten, and Afflicted."

LATE SNOWSTORM

mile and vertical visibility was about 100 feet. The northwest winds, although averaging 32 mph, had peak gusts up to 58 miles an hour.

Lack of communications in the Grand Island area necessitated the halting of the Burlington's train No. 43 bound for Billings, Mont., at Grand Island. Train No. 42, headed for Lincoln, was being held at Ravenna.

Burlington officials in Lincoln said the sleet knocked out wire communications between Aurora and Litchfield.

From Fairmont to Hastings the snow measured near four inches. Grand Island and Ravenna reported five inches on the ground. Farther east, Seward had received three inches of snow while Wymore reported an inch of snow and rain. Falls City received about a half inch of rain.

The Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph company reported the following snow and rainfall this morning: Ashland, spitting snow; Auburn, trace of rain, Beatrice, .44, rain; Crete, one and a half inches of snow, .40 moisture; David City, 2 inches snow; Fairbury, .25; Friend, .25; Geneva, 8 in. snow; Hastings, 2 in. snow; Humboldt, .25; Seward, .85; Tecumseh, .10; Western and Wilber, 1 inch snow; and Wymore, .05.

As the storm moved eastward, Lincoln and Omaha were feeling the fury of the unseasonal blast this afternoon. Snow and sleet were falling at both points.

For the seventh time in six months, several hundred Northwestern Bell Telephone company workmen piled into trucks this morning, headed for central and northeast Nebraska and southeast South Dakota to restore service to isolated communities.

At least 50 communities were in a communications blackout and more than 300 long distance lines were out of service.

Discouraged telephone officials noted that the six previous storms had caused damages estimated at two million dollars. No estimate on new damage was available as new reports of storm damage came hourly.

Columbus and Norfolk were among communities isolated from communications.

At Beatrice, dirt roads were said to be getting slushy but no roads were closed.

Lowland Areas Flooded.

The storm, adding a new chapter to the story of a rugged winter and capricious spring, came as the Missouri river flooded additional lowland acres in its reaches below Omaha.

Army engineers reported 121,100 acres under water along the main stem. Of this, 65,100 flooded acres were along the river between Sioux City and Rulo, Neb.

A break on the Dodge-Peterson levee south of Omaha on the Iowa side of the river today flooded 110 acres. Two levee breaks just south of Brownville, Neb., flooded another 1,400 acres.

The river fell at Omaha but climbed at downstream points.

Engineers said flooding to date between Sioux City and Rulo has spilled water over 76 farmsteads, caused the evacuation of 224 persons, 1,207 head of livestock and 615 poultry and small farm animals.

The new storm came at the height of the calving season and observers feared losses might increase.

"Mother Rocke" Dies; Aided Many Students Through N. U.

Mrs. Amanda S. Rocke, 86, 6827 Holdrege street, died late Wednesday afternoon. She was the first recipient of the Lincoln 40 et 8 voiture's distinguished service medal.

Mrs. Rocke

Mrs. Rocke was the widow of Chris Rocke, with whom she operated for many years the Grand hotel on North Twelfth street near the University of Nebraska campus.

To many former University of Nebraska students, she was known as "Mother Rocke." She was awarded the 40 et 8 medal in recognition of the help she gave students following World war I. Many students worked as waiters or at other odd jobs at the Grand hotel to earn their way through school. The hotel was the meeting place of the 40 et 8 for some time.

Born Amanda Stockfeld in Iowa, Mrs. Rocke came to Nebraska with her father, who was a Lutheran minister. She married Chris Rocke at Princeton in 1887.

Operated Several Hotels.

From 1887 to 1900 they operated the Washington house, Ninth and N, and the Boyd hotel from 1900 to 1908 they operated the Grand hotel and from 1908 to 1915 the Western hotel at 731 O street. Then they returned to the Grand hotel in 1918 and continued in business there until 1930 when Mr. Rocke died. Mrs. Rocke operated the hotel herself until 1938 when she retired.

Mrs. Rocke had lived with two of her nieces and a nephew at 6827 Holdrege street in recent years. They are Miss Mary and Miss Bessie Stockfeld and Richard Stockfeld. Other survivors are two nephews, Paul and Bill Stockfeld of Owen, Ia.

Funeral services will be held Saturday, 2 p. m., at Roberts chapel. Rev. Lowell C. Bryant will officiate. Burial will be in Lincoln Memorial Park.

Official Vote Count Does Not Change Results

In Primary Election: 16,539 Cast Ballots

Election Commissioner Ray Frohn Thursday sent to the city clerk the tabulation of the official returns from the primary election held April 5.

The official returns did not change the outcome of any of the races. Only changes in the figures were due to the 70 added absentee votes, and discovery of two small errors in the election night tabulation of voters for the anti-parallel parking proposal and for Fern Hubbard Orme.

The change in vote on the parking proposal narrowed the majority by which it passed from 742 to 659.

Margin Reduced.

Total vote cast was 16,539. Of this total, 70 votes were absentee and disabled voters, and 127 came from Huskerville, where residents were permitted to vote for school board members.

The final count showed the amendment to the city charter to provide more revenue defeated by 1,440 votes, 8,609 to 7,169. The other proposition, an initiative ordinance to return parallel parking on certain streets, was passed by 659 votes, 8,159 to 7,500.

Pacific Northwest

The Midwest and the Deep South have their tornadoes, the Southeastern Atlantic seaboard states their hurricanes which on occasion sweep northward to batter the entire American Eastern coastline.

The Pacific coast has its earthquakes.

The press dispatches suggest that the quake which exacted a loss of life and heavy property damage over a considerable area of the Pacific Northwest was kind in the fact that it saw fit to take place while spring vacation had vacated the public schools. Otherwise the death toll might have been much greater.

What happened there was the worst earthquake in 130 years of settlement of the Pacific Northwest, a beautiful land, ambitious, throbbing with life, proud of its new-found strength, and seemingly destined in the next 50 years to play a much more important part in American commercial and industrial history. From 1940 the population gains of the Puget Sound area have matched strides with any other region in the United States.

It is not to be anticipated that the earthquake will stem the tide of immigration to the Pacific Northwest although it may influence the type of development there in the future. But with Alaska, and with the Far East destined to play a far more important part in American thought and trade, the disaster that drew the attention of the entire country is only an episode in continued progress.

The Governor's Mission

Gov. Val Peterson's trip to Washington and his testimony before a senate subcommittee primarily was to get adequate funds for Missouri basin development, without delay or the loss of a year's time. The view that he expressed in connection with the Pick-Sloan plan or a proposed MVA could have only been secondary to this first interest.

If that is the case, the World-Herald's John Jarrell put Governor Peterson in an unpleasant position when Jarrell wrote that a senate subcommittee was told in unmistakable terms that the people of the Missouri valley favor the Pick-Sloan plan and don't want any truck with an MVA. That is the Herald's editorial position and we doubt that any stretch of the imagination found Governor Peterson in Washington to inform congress how the World-Herald feels about Missouri basin development.

In fact Governor Peterson's quoted words are most moderate and objective:

"In Nebraska," the Herald quotes him, "there is very little MVA sentiment. Any interest has developed since last fall's election. With the possible exception of the election campaign of Senator Murray I know of no election in the entire valley last fall where the valley authority was openly debated so the electors could pass judgment."

Which is the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth. It can be added that there were few, if any elections last fall in the Missouri basin, where the Pick-Sloan plan was presented so that it became the deciding factor in the marking of ballots. The first concern of the people here is sound valley development, not a silly debate over what they shall call it.

Our Tiny Little Island?

That was a nasty crack tossed in the direction of Nebraska during the Town Hall discussion earlier in the week. One member of the 4-man panel had the unadulterated nerve to refer to "Isolationist Nebraska."

Several readers grabbed the telephone to inquire why something hadn't been said about it.

What is there to say about it? The people of Nebraska are not isolationists. They are not ostriches. In the matter of war they recognize that the changes which have come in transportation, communication, and new weapons does not leave people safe no matter where they may be located geographically. There isn't any fuzzy thinking on this score abong Nebraskans, regardless of occupation or poltical status.

What is there to say about it? It is true that both Nebraska senators, Mr. Wherry and Mr. Butler, contributed two of the seven votes in the senate against the European recovery program. It is true that three Nebraska republican house representatives contributed their votes to a token opposition in the house for approval of the European recovery program. It is true that the people of 47 states would have justification if they concluded that out here on the great American plains there is a tiny island of American isolation—stubborn, unyielding, deluding itself into believing that its world is a special little world of its own, immune from the forces and the currents that affect every other region in the world. There is reason for millions of people beyond the borders of Nebraska to wonder just what does ail us, and to speculate upon why those who are representing us in congress pursue what seems to be a dogged policy of obstruction.

What is there to say about it? Senator Butler is anchored to his seat until 1952. Senator Wherry is secure until 1954. All three members of the house —Stefan, Curtis and Miller—may have told the voters that if they were re-elected they planned to vote against approval of legislation setting forth a second year of the European recovery program, but if they did, generally, while out on the stump last fall they said it in such whispers that it missed the headlines and failed to attract any widespread attention in Nebraska.

Very few people get any satisfaction out of petitioning congress. We have wondered many times, however, how long thousands and thousands of Nebraskans, republicans and democrats alike, will continue to remain silent while Nebraska's two representatives in the senate and three of its four house members continue by vote after vote to oppose measures of an international character. A Nebraska petition to congress, signed by both republicans anad democrats, might let people all over the United States know that there are thousands of citizens in Nebraska willing to join the majority representatives of the other 47 states in supporting American foreign policy. It would'nt do any good to petition the Nebraska delegation. It would be a waste of time. But a petition setting forth the views of those who follow Vandenberg and other distinguished republican leaders—those who support the administration in American foreign policy would at least make clear the will and the spirit of the people of this state.

And if Nebraska's delegation is to continue its present course, perhaps, during one of those heartwarming breakfasts at which the five of them gather around the table, Senator Wherry, Senator Butler, and Representatives Curtis, Miller and Stefan will see fit to let their own people know just exactly what they do favor in international policy.

His Own Security

Nebraska newspaper comment upon the recognition of 17-year-old Roger Stukenholtz used up a lot of words in order to ignore what seems to us to be the most significant reflection provided by his achievements. He is the 1949 Star Farmer of Nebraska. He started from scratch still with fuzz on his chin, through hard labor and common sense has succeeded in building an impressive little financial nest egg. He has had a finger in about everything that marks the planning and the labors of a resourceful farmer. Fifty years hence, nearing the fabled allotment of threescore and ten, we can say with full assurance that he will not be thinking of any pension plan. He will have built his own solid security. It is not possible for all Americans to do this, never has been possible for every hard-working, honest, frugal citizen to do it, but there is a satisfaction when it is possible that exceeds anything else.

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

Memorandum: A member of the staff of The Lincoln Star, Mr. Paul Scott, was at his home in Greeley county over the week end. He submitted to a group of farmers—12 living in Greeley county, two from the neighboring county of Howard, this question: "Would you be in favor of having your gas tax refund used to improve roads in the county in which you live?" Mr. Scott's report may interest members of the Nebraska unicameral, tied in knots over the perplexing, truly difficult problems of finding the money to do the things which need doing so badly.

"Of 14 farmers asked the key question, 11 said 'yes'—one said 'no'—and two others said they weren't sure. All 14 wanted roads improved as soon as possible, within two years if possible. All had traveled more than three and up to 12 miles over muddy roads which were nearly impassable. Of the 11 who answered 'yes,' four of the farmers said they didn't care whether the county or the state did the work. They said that main roads, especially Highway 281 which runs north and south through Greeley county, should be repaired FIRST. They all agreed that state money should be used and that their gas tax refunds should go to gravel feeder roads leading to that highway. One said that if the county could use an engineer paid for by the state, they might be able to get good roads. He insisted that the refunds should be placed in a special fund for roads. Of the three remaining, two said that the funds should be added to the present road graveling funds for mail routes but that work (the improvement of farm-to-market highways) should begin on all mail routes and should start at one end and carry on through until the routes were finished. Two said they definitely didn't want the county commissioners to handle the money. Of the 14, only three favored a sales tax, while four others favored the gasoline tax with all gas tax money earmarked for road work. Ten were against a sales tax, one wouldn't comment."

★

The Nebraska unicameral, entering upon the final stages of its work, faces its most important, its most tormenting problems. This sampling in one Nebraska county is by no means representative in a state sense but there is evidence of support out on the farm for legislation to freeze gasoline tax refunds in order to build farm-to-market roads; at the end of each year to return those frozen funds to the counties where the agricultural use of gasoline provided a basis for a claim for exemption.

★

And, why not? Since 1942 more than 3½ million dollars, which would have graveled a lot of highway have been drawn out of the treasury in the form of gasoline tax refunds, drawn out largely by big operators. Only 28 thousand claims were filed in the state which has between 80 thousand and 100 thousand farmers. Since claims are filed either semi-annually or annually, slightly less than 28 thousand farmers in Nebraska got any benefit under gasoline tax exemption. And 3½ million dollars were siphoned off in road graveling at a time when farm commodity prices and bountiful production provided the greatest farm prosperity in Nebraska history. This money, which could have built a lot of graveled roads, was returned to farmers who could have taken an exemption on income taxes for gasoline used in connection with their business.

★

Here is a practical way of speeding up the building of rural roads. Here is a means of getting money back to sparsely settled counties. Here is a chance of doing something really creative instead of trying to gouge neighboring counties. Here is a chance to build farm roads without repealing the gasoline tax exemption law, merely amending it, so as to freeze the refunds claimed and turning those refunds into the useful purpose of building roads past the farmer's door at a time when economic farm conditions are good. If commodity prices drop to ruinous levels the gasoline tax exemption law is still there. An amendment could revive its original purpose. This is not aimed at the farmer; this is to help him.

★

What better contribution could Charley Marshall and his Nebraska Farm Bureau federation make than taking the leadership in this matter, seeing to it that the money goes back to the counties to build gravel roads; actually goes back to those counties where farming operations are the basis for exemption claims?

Here is an opportunity for inspired legislative leadership.

OFF THE RECORD

By ED REED

"Your husband is certainly particular about his appearance at all times, isn't he?"

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

TRADE MARK REGISTERED

By DREW PEARSON

(Ed Note—This is the second of Drew Pearson's series on the lobbyists who pull the wires backstage in congress.)

WASHINGTON — One of the cleverest lobbies in Washington is the American Enterprise association, financed by big business, which puts a nutshell analysis of all legislation on the desks of about 400 congressmen every morning. Obviously, there is no better way to influence legislation than by interpreting legislation to a harassed congressman who doesn't have time to study every bill for himself.

This lobby is supported by Robert Lund, past president of the National Association of Manufacturers, and by officials of PEARSON SAYS that another liberal democrat euchred into endorsing the analytical service is Sen. Francis Myers of Pennsylvania (above), who explained that he had done so on the recommendation of Congressman Priest.

Johns-Manville, Chemical Bank and Trust, Guaranty Trust, American Steel Foundaries, Inland Steel, Chrysler, Bristol-Myers, Brown and Sharpe, United Carr Fastener, and others. It also has the support of some congressmen, including "Goober Gene" Cox of Georgia, who claims credit for selling the idea to his Mercer university classmate, Eugene Stetson, head of the Guaranty Trust Co.

* * *

"It was all my idea," says the Georgia congressman, who is one of the most reactionary members of the house.

Others who helped inspire the association were 'Lew Brown, head of Johns-Manville, Baxter Jackson of Chemical Bank and Trust; Congressmen Dan Reed of New York, Roy Woodruff of Michigan; and the late J. Frederick Richardson, the frist manager of the Washington office.

After the republicans took over congress in 1946, Congressman Dan Reed induced house GOP leaders to set up a co-ordinator's office, supposed to do research for members of congress, and financed out of the public funds.

* * *

Lo, and behold! Who do you think was moved into this key job? The representative of private business—J. Frederick Richardson. Hitherto, Richardson had been working on the outside as the representative of acknowledged business groups. But now, thanks to Congressman Reed, he moved right inside the halls of congress and was put on the government payroll. Furthermore, Richardson brought with him the same men who had been working for the American Enterprise association.

Came last November's election, however, and the victorious democrats moved this amazing lobby out. Thereupon it became necessary for the American Enterprise association to get some nonpartisan political collaboration. They did this by making a deal with the law firm of Secretary of the Navy John Sullivan, a true and loyal democrat. Sullivan's law firm was hired to analyze legislation and write the daily reports for congressmen.

* * *

The secretary of the navy, sensitive about any connection with the lobby, is very emphatic that he is no longer with his law firm.

"Let's get one thing clear," he snapped, when queried. "I am no longer in the firm. My name is not on the stationery. My name is not on the door."

Sullivan admitted, however, that Malcolm Hardgrove, now Washington representative of the lobby, had talked to him about various matters. Hardgrove is the man who gets information from ex-Speaker Joe Martin's office by occasionally slipping $20 to a negro messenger, who plays close to the real estate lobby and admits that he interviews 20 to 50 congressmen a day.

* * *

"How well do you know Hardgrove?" the secretary of the navy was asked.

"I've seen him three or four times," he replied.

Later the same question was put to Hardgrove.

"John has been a close friend of mine for years," he said.

"But he says he has only seen you three or four times."

"Well, that's true," Hardgrove fumbled. "I've just seen him a couple of times."

"You mean you've been close friends for years and you've only seen him a couple of times?"

"I can see that we're not getting anywhere," Hardgrove blurted and hung up.

It may be significant, however, that when the secretary of the navy telephones Hardgrove's office, which he does from time to time, he does not ask for "Mr. Hardgrove," nor does he even use his first name, "Malcolm." He asks for "Mal."

* * *

It is also significant that Congressman Percy Priest of Tennessee, a democrat, says that he would not have endorsed the American Enterprise association except for the Sullivan law firm's connection with it. Priest said that Hardgrove had used Sullivan's name in asking him to write a letter boosting the association. It was this letter of recommendation, plus those by two other democrats, which started democratic congressmen subscribing to the lobby's analytical service.

Another liberal democrat who was euchred into endorsing the analytical service is Senator Francis Myers of Pennsylvania, who explained that he had done so on the recommendation of Congressman Priest. He said, however, that he might send out another letter warning of the facts uncovered by this column.

Careful examination of the legislative analysis shows that the digests of laws themselves are fairly nonpartisan. But along with the digests are sent a series of carefully slanted questions which are asked each legislator.

* * *

Along with its digests and questions, the lobby sends out pamphlets on economic problems, but seems to confine itself to circulating only the views of big business. Propaganda by the Tax foundation and the Foundation for Economic Education are featured in the association's office. Hardgrove, incidentally, does some work on the side for the big-business-financed Foundation for Economic Education.

James O'Connor Roberts, who used to write the digests, claims they were impartial while he was doing them, but when Sinclair Weeks, former treasurer of the republican national committee, took over the presidency, he quit.

"I was told I could no longer have control of the questions," said Roberts. "They were bound to become slanted as I saw it."

So he resigned. And that is the subtle system devised by certain big business firms to influence the men who write the laws for the rest of the nation.

The dispute between Colombia and Peru over what should happen to Victor Haya De La Torre, leader of the latter country's outlawed majority party, Apra, is about to enter a crucial stage that will probably give Pan-American solidarity its stiffest test in a long time.

The series of diplomatic notes exchanged by the two governments about Haya, who took refuge in the Colombian embassy at Lima last Jan. 3, shortly after the legitimate Peruvian administration had been ousted by a military coup, were extremely courteous and conciliatory. But they didn't reflect the true feelings of the disputants, which have now reached an angry pitch.

While the Peruvian minister of foreign affairs was firmly but po-

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

THE DREAM GOLFERS.

Back to the grill the golfers come,
Hope shining in their eyes.
The robins sing to welcome spring,
The fairway open lies.
Now at the table where we sit
They proudly tell to me
When they get out, beyond a doubt,
They'll score in seventy-three.

All winter long they've studied pros
Who tell the cure for hooks.
And some in bed, for hours have read
The latest published books.
A few have been to golfdom's schools,
Instruction wise to get
In stuffy halls, where practice balls
Are driven in a net.

Others have played their favorite course
In dreams before the fire,
Where pits are not, and every shot
Achieves the heart's desire.
And some have putted on a rug,
Night after night, and think
Greens fasts or slow, blow wind or no,
Their every putt will sink.

Time was the golfing books I read
And thought the art I knew;
When springtime comes, with eyes aflame
I boasted what I'd do.
But this I've learned from year to year
With each returning spring,
The scores are made where golf is played;
And that's a different thing.

THE MESS HE LEFT US IN

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I read the editorial, (Lincoln Star, April 12) commenting upon the anniversary of Franklin D. Roosevelt's death. I noted particularly this: "The strange thing is that now four years later the personality of this man is just as vivid in its impression upon American thought as it was when he was alive." Why wouldn't it be in the light of the mess that he has left us in?

HIGHWAY PATROL FUNDS.

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Now that it has been reported by the budget committee that 100 thousand dollars has been diverted from the state highway patrol funds for other uses and that it will be necessary to make a deficiency appropriation to carry on their activities until Sept. 1, the legislature and the people should know who was responsible for diverting revenue from the drivers license fund for other purposes. Here is another case of using blank check funds for purposes other than which they were intended. The legislature ought to get busy and cancel all blank check funds for any purpose.

BEG PARDON

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I am not a crank, I hope these comments will be taken in the proper spirit. The editorial, "More Than Bread and Butter" (Lincoln Star, April 12), as published is about at the level of a second rate fifth grader. Yours for more readable, grammatically correct English.

JOHN C. FRANTZ.

NOTE: Mr. Frantz' letter has been accepted in the spirit of full humility. His objection to the first paragraph of "More Than Bread and Butter" is that the paragraph is "terribly clumsy." His objection to the closing sentence of the second paragraph is that it is "utterly meaningless." His objection to the third paragraph is that it is "awfully windy." His objection to the fifth paragraph results from the editor's confusion of the word 'obective' when "method" would have expressed the meaning accurately. His objection to the concluding paragraph is that one sentence in it is too long and too involved. We take it that Mr. Frantz just did not like the editorial. Beg pardon. But he must have had "fun."

PLAYING WITH DYNAMITE

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Senator Burney is playing with dynamite. His 2 per cent retail sales tax is just that. He would use its proceeds as replacement for state property tax levies. He would free from state tax the property owner, letting those unpossessed do the paying through a sales tax. That proposal meets the hearty amen of every corporation in the state. Yes, let the common class, the white-collared worker being shaken down in rent pay the state property tax upon the property he rents. Let the widow washerwoman, the street sweeper and the renter on the farm do the taxpaying for the property-owning class. If that isn't fascism, pray tell us what fascism is. However, the masses will not take it standing up or lying down. Once a state senate has passed that bill, a constitutional amendment will be in the offing. It will be modeled after the California law in behalf of state assistance. It will call for the diversion of that sales tax to state assistance. The public will be just hot enough to put over such an amendment in short order. No constitutional amendment offered in behalf of the old folks has ever been defeated. Five thousand men and women are ready to circulate such petitions and Dr. Townsend will no doubt be happy to provide the petitions. Yes, let 1950 be a humdinger. Let us meet the issue.

CECIL E. MATTHEWS.

PAYING A HEAVY PRICE

Mahaska, Kas.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: C. J. Johnson and others are having quite a debate on alcoholism. What causes alcoholism? Would we crave alcohol if we were at ease mentally and physically? Surely not. Recently when I invited a friend to have a beer with me, he replied: "No. I already feel fine, there isn't anything I could wish to make me feel better." Isn't that a good answer—to feel so good that you don't want alcohol to make you feel "better." One important point, this man's diet is as perfect as anybody could wish for. With the correct diet there is the right food present and the chemical elements present so that the food can undergo the changes necessary to make it into the form to give energy and maintain our bodies. Any doctor or chemist knows this. If food is retarded in the digestive organs for want of these chemical elements produced within the body, it becomes stagnant and irritating and if continued for a long time produces disease germs and ill health. As we all know, alcohol is a stimulant and a solvent. It acts on the undigested food and quiets the irritated parts, but alcoholics are paying a big price for this temporary relief. The majority of people are under the impression that they can eat whatever they wish as long as it is nourishing food, without realizing that if the food did not undergo chemical change they would die of starvation. Perhaps the answer to alcoholism and many other diseases may be found in these chemical changes which are just as important as the food itself.

WASHINGTON CALLING

by MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON — At the time of the signing of the Atlantic pact one of the ambassadors took his foreign minister to call on a prominent member of the senate. In the course of their private talk the senator, who is one of the most earnest advocates of international co-operation, was oppressed by some disquieting doubts about the future of the pact.

It was a curious conversation. Each man talked from a different set of beliefs.

Marquis Childs

The foreign minister was full of confidence. He seemed to feel that everything had been settled, including the certainty of a generous allotment of lend-lease arms for his country and other nations of the pact where the need is great.

* * *

The senator was not nearly so sure. He tried to put in a little caution so that the distinguished visitor would return to his homeland with at least the understanding that it would take time to ratify and implement the agreement.

This note of caution made the ambassadors most unhappy. Obviously, he did not want his minister to return with any doubts. So in the end the three talked more or less at cross purposes.

Now that the pact is before the senate, there is an object lesson in this conversation for the days ahead. Many senators are fearful that the promises made to the European nations signing the pact have been too glib and too generous. They see troubles ahead in this connection.

* * *

The No. 1 consideration is time. Given the present temper of the senate, quick action simply is not possible. Approval of the pact is likely to take many weeks.

Hearings before the foreign relations committee have not yet been scheduled. They probably will begin toward the last of this month or the first part of May. They are certain to be lengthy.

The question in many senatorial minds is whether ratification of the pact is also a commitment to provide arms. Secretary of State Dean Acheson will be called on to answer that one, and it will not be easy.

* * *

Directly related are doubts as to the internal stability and strength of certain of the signatory powers. The fear is that arms sent from this country may fall into the hands of political adventurers of the right or the left.

When it comes to debate on the senate floor, no one would be rash enough to prophesy the number of weeks that will be devoted to speech-making. Both in the hearing and in the floor debate it appears certain that the pact and the arms to implement it will be linked together.

Some sincere opponents, such as Sen. Forrest C. Donnell of Missouri, will take hours if not days to expound their uncertainty as to whether the pact violates fundamental provisions of the constitution. Old-fashioned isolationists of the type of Sen. William Langer of North Dakota, will exploit the familiar theme of a decadent Europe leaning on the United States. Much of this oratory will be tailor-made for the Soviet propaganda radio beamed at western European peoples.

* * *

Secretary Acheson has made an effort to prepare the signatory powers for this performance. But whether, in view of his delicate role as negotiator and mainstay of strength and encouragement, he has been able to do this is questionable.

Some senators have been disturbed by state department announcement of European armament requests released while the debate on European aid was still on. They are fearful of implied promises of arms and, back of that, the hint that the number of American troops in Europe will be greatly increased.

* * *

There is no reason why all these doubts cannot be honestly resolved in frank discussion. If the foreign ministers returned with an impression of quick action, they will have to adjust to the current reality.

At the same time it is important for the senate to understand the viewpoint of the Europeans who signed the pact. They came here realizing the grave risks they took for their respective countries in defying Soviet threats. They could not, politically speaking, have taken those risks without the hope and even the assurance of tangible help toward greater security.

What must be avoided on both sides of the Atlantic is mutual disillusion and the bitter recrimination that would go with it. The moral of all this is patience and then more patience.

Jaycees Launch Fund Drive For Midget Baseball Program

...Seek $4,500 To Reach Goal

A city-wide campaign to raise $4,500 for the proposed midget baseball program for Lincoln this summer was launched Thursday by the junior chamber of commerce.

The receipts from the new fund drive will be added to the $2,000 already raised by the Jaycees' Variety Minstrel show staged this week.

Contributions from dimes to dollars can be taken or mailed to the Lincoln junior chamber of commerce office during the next two weeks.

Chamber members said Thursday that hundreds of telephone calls have been pouring into the office during the past few weeks from eager youngsters asking where to sign up and when the season will open.

It is estimated that a minimum of 1,000 boys between 11 and 14 years of age will take part in the program sponsored by the chamber in co-ordination with the city recreation department's activity program.

'Word Series' At Close.

The program will be run along "Big League" lines with A and B leagues competing in weekly series plus a midget world series slated at Sherman Field at the end of the season.

Under the proposed set-up the city will be divided into east and west divisions with two teams organized at each of Lincoln's 12 playgrounds. A teams will comprise boys from 13 to 14 and B groups will take in the 11 and 12-year-olds.

Baseball School.

A baseball school sponsored by the University of Nebraska athletic department and the Lincoln Athletics in conjunction with films put out by the American league will get the season off to an official start at a kick-off rally of all youngsters early in June.

A portion of funds received will be used to pay instructors from the university athletic department $15 a week to coach the teams and also a program director. The umpires' association and the city fire department have offered to furnish representatives for each game.

Another feature of the program will be holding of midget games at Sherman field throughout the season as a preliminary to the regular Lincoln A games.

In a breakdown of costs, Jaycees estimated Thursday that uniforms for the 24 teams will total $2,900 to include pants, shirts and caps. Catching equipment including leg guards, protectors and mitts is expected to cost $552. About $840 is the anticipated cost of bats and balls and pay for recreational directors is set at $2,340.

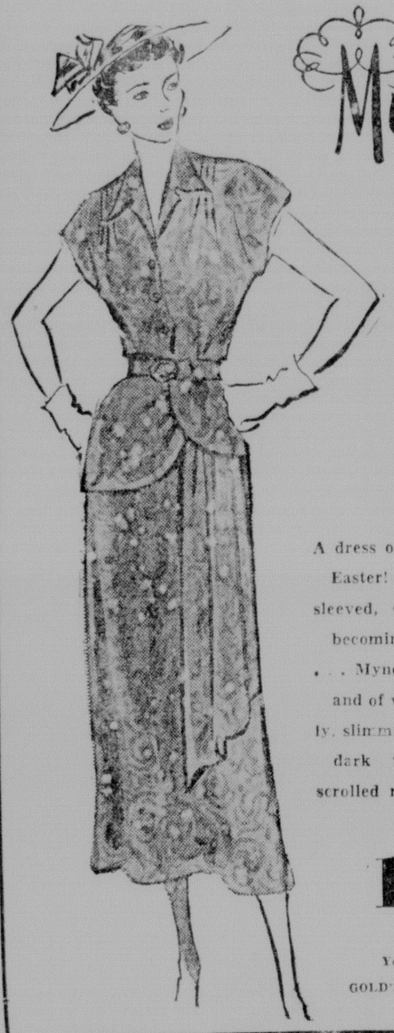

The junior chamber points out that the youngsters can enjoy three months of out-of-door activity plus a lot of fun at no cost to them or their parents. It also keeps them occupied during vacation time and national surveys in Omaha, St. Louis and numerous other cities in the nation shows that juvenile delinquency is virtually non-existent among young participants. The program is designed to co-ordinate, not compete with the city recreation program.

Line Permit Granted

The state railway commission Thursday granted authority to the Loup Valleys Rural Electrical Membership association, Ord, to construct and operate 333 miles of electric transmission lines in Sherman, Valley, Greeley, Wheeler, Garfield and Loup counties.

Reds In Europe Halted

ERP Has Good Chance Of Ultimate Success, De Luce Of AP Says

EDITOR'S NOTE—(Daniel De Luce has covered many of the most important news stories of the last decade in Europe and Asia. Now after a swing through Germany, France and Scandinavia, he is looking into ERP results and prospects.)

By DANIEL DE LUCE.

PARIS—(AP)—Men on the inside of the European recovery program claim it now has 40 to 60 per cent chance of long-range success.

A year ago, they saw only a 20 per cent chance. But they say their feeling of cautious optimism is growing.

The European recovery program—ERP—has already cost the United States five billion dollars since it was started April 3, 1948.

The total cost may reach 17 billion dollars before the program is completed in mid-1952.

The payoff hoped for is nothing less than this: The peaceful evolution of diverse nations toward self-supporting European unity, which will foster economic well-being and virile democracy for all of them.

More simply, the payoff might, with the impetus of the Atlantic treaty, be a kind of United States of western Europe.

Immediate Results Good.

Only a Gypsy fortuneteller could pretend to know now whether western Europe will ultimately reach this objective. The ERP, in aiming in this direction, is strictly a gamble.

But in short-range activities the ERP is less uncertain. Judged on factual results month by month during its brief life, the ERP is accomplishing a good many of the urgent tasks which its backers claimed it would accomplish.

Some failures are already chalked up against the ERP, and others are impending. But contrasted with its inability to do the impossible is its record of doing, or nearly doing, very difficult things.

The Erp seems little understood. Yet it is a public project whereby 140,000,000 Americans have begun to give as much as 17 billion dollars for the benefit of 270,000,000 Europeans.

It Furnishes Dollars.

Don't confuse the ERP with UNRRA, which ran soup kitchens after the war. Or with lend-lease, which simply delivered 60 billion dollars worth of American production, mostly armaments, to foreign nations with a minimum of red tape.

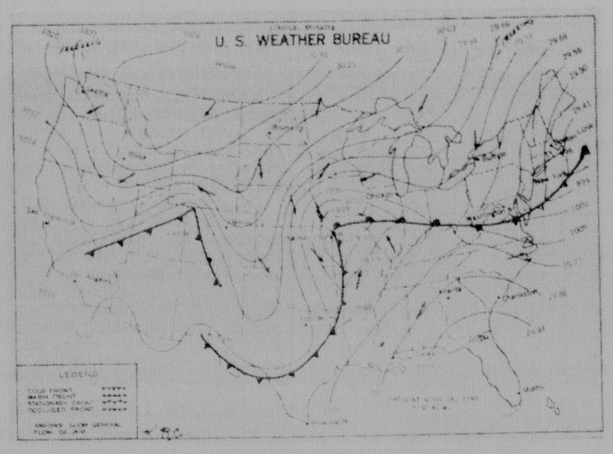

The ERP involves many operations, but most of all, it is investment banking. It furnishes dollars to stimulate and expand European trade and industry through normal commercial channels.

The dollars come out of the U. S. treasury. At least 80 per cent of them are gifts to ERP countries, with certain strings attached. The remainder are loans, requiring full repayment with 2½ per cent interest.

The immediate political purpose of the ERP, when it started in April last year, was to check communism. This has been done.

The hard-core of communism in such countries as France and Italy has not been cut back, but it has not grown. In other countries, like Norway and Denmark, fellow travelers have been forsaking the Moscow party line.

In no ERP country is there the likelihood now that communists could win governmental control by anything short of invasion by the Soviet army.

WEATHER BUREAU SUMMARY—The eastward movement of the storm from Colorado to northwestern Missouri has been attended by strong northerly winds over eastern Nebraska and most of Kansas last night and rain changing to sleet and snow has fallen over most of eastern Nebraska. Grand Island reports 5 inches of snow on the ground this morning. Light to moderate rain or snow has also fallen elsewhere over a belt extending from southwestern Missouri northwestward to western Montana, and moderate to heavy rains have fallen over the middle Atlantic coast states, diminishing to light to moderate over the Ohio valley, eastern Tennessee, and the lower Lake region. Warm weather continues over the southern portions of Texas, Arizona and California, where numerous stations had high temperatures in the lower 90s yesterday. Cold air is moving rapidly southward over the central and southern great plains states this morning, following the eastward movement of the storm now over Missouri.

Ex-Soldier Is Missing; May Have Amnesia

...Left School

A 24-year-old ex-soldier, who has been missing from his home since Monday, was believed to be a victim of amnesia.

Donald Moninger

Relatives appealed Thursday to state law authorities to help locate Donald Moninger, 24, who was last seen when he attended his first classes at the National Business Institute here.

He was believed to be in the Omaha area today after Cass County officials had reported that a farmer had seen a man, who answered Moninger's description, traveling toward Omaha.

According to business school students, Moninger, who is the father of a 22-months-old son, had complained of headaches shortly befor he disappeared.

The youth's wife said Moninger was five feet, seven inches tall, weighs 142 pounds and has sandy hair and light blue eyes. He was wearing a two-tone tan sport jacket and gray pants when he was last seen.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

litely rejecting Colombia's request that Haya be granted a safe-conduct out of Peru, Gen. Manuel Odria, head of the army junta that currently runs Peru as a fascist-style police state, showed no such restraint. In several inflammatory speeches, General Oria snarled savagely at the Colombian thesis that Haya was a political refugee who deserved asylum.

* * *

Reaction in Bogota, home of the hemisphere's most legalistic-minded jurists, was at first one of patient insistence. But repeated rebuffs finally produced annoyance, and the Colombians coldly informed Peru that they were ready to submit the issue to outside consideration.

"So certain is this government of the correctness of its position," read this final note from Bogota, "that the choice of organism before which the merits of this case shall be argued is left entirely to the discretion of your excellency's (the Peruvian) government."

The communication then listed these alternatives: Arbitration by a third party, i. e., another government; submission to the governing board of the organization of American states; convocation of a council of foreign ministers to rule on the question; placing the whole matter before the international court at The Hague.

* * *

Whether government officials in Bogota thought that this generous gesture was going to placate the Peruvian brasshats is debatable. If so, they must have had a rude awakening. The reply from Lima was a curt rejection of "any foreign interference in questions directly affecting national security, e. g., the irrevocable determination of this administration to bring all terrorists, including Victor Raul Haya De La Torre, to justice."

The Colombian government has set its jaw and will now proceed to make its own decision about what to do with the case. Most likely result is an appeal to the Organization of American States' governing board to call for Peruvian observance of inter-American commitments covering the right of exile and asylum.

Privately—which means more than formal public statements—key figures in both countries have sworn not to retreat an inch from their present stands. Meanwhile, book in the Colombian embassy, Haya is hard at work writing a book in the Colombian embassy, where everyone has learned to regard him as a more or less permanent fixture.

—Budget Committee—

Fate Safety Council Is Undecided

Action Delayed On $1,470,609 Budget For State Patrol

The legislative budget committee Wednesday debated the fate of the State Safety Council, and where the funds are going to be raised to finance it for the next biennium.

Formed late in 1947 as a result of the president's highway safety conference, the council has never had a legal status in Nebraska and has been operated under the highway department from highway cash funds.

However, council officials have expressed the feeling that they would rather not be under the state safety patrol and patrol officials are not anxious for the council to be there. During the last biennium the council operated on $24,000 from drivers' license fees, according to committee chairman Sen. John Callan.

Up To Governor.

When asked if his department would take over the safety council, Captain C. J. Sanders of the state safety patrol said that decision "should be left up to the governor," and that he would go along with the governor's action.

At the end of the meeting, the status of the council was questionable, as committee members agreed to lay the problem over until conferences could be held with the governor. The council has requested a $40,000 appropriation for the 1949-51 biennium, Sen. Callan said.

In other action Wednesday the committee approved the $533,000 budget request of the motor vehicle registration department, headed by Owen J. Boyles. The department has charge of motor vehicle registration, title registration, drivers' licenses and administration of the financial responsibility act.

Cut $9,000.

The committee knocked $9,000 out of the department's budget which had been earmarked for safety education. That program will be put under some other department, probably the safety patrol, to alleviate some duplication in state safety work.

The committee took no action on the $1,470,609 budget request submitted by the safety patrol, preferring to wait until the fate of the safety council is decided.

The budgets of the two departments, totaling $2,033,000 for the next biennium, if approved will be paid by direct appropriation from the state general fund, rather than from the highway cash fund as has been the case previously.

However, the combined budgets are $66,000 more than the anticipated income from various registration fees during the next biennium, expected to amount to $1,937,000. Accordingly, this would not only leave no funds for the safety council, but would leave a deficit in the general fund.

Committee members were split as to the usefulness of the state safety council. Sen. Lester Anderson, Aurora, contended that the work they do could be better accomplished by the safety patrol, while Sen. Victor Anderson, Lincoln, said the council had a promotional and educational value that could not be handled by the patrol.

The general consensus was that there was too much duplication of safety work on the state level and that some adjustments would have to be made.

Gunfire-Frightened Shark Climbs Beach To Attack A Bather

TAMPICO, Mex.—(AP)—A shark, frightened from the sea by naval gunfire and depth charges, jumped up on Miramar beach yesterday and bit a bather.

Other bathers grabbed sticks and clubs and beat the shark to death before it could get back to the water. The injured man was hospitalized.

The U. S. naval vessel John W. Weeks, six miles off shore, caused the trouble. It was demonstrating its guns and bombs for Mexican officials.

Two Escape Injury, Car Hit By Train

Couple Thrown From Auto Struck At City Crossing By Eaglet

Alden Vanek, 26, and his wife, 25, of 1415 B street, escaped injury Wednesday evening when the Missouri Pacific Eaglet crashed into their car at the Fortieth street crossing near X street.

The Vaneks, who were thrown from the car, said they received only minor bruises.

Vanek told police he was driving north on Fortieth street at about 20 miles per hour when the train struck the rear of the car as they were crossing the tracks. Engineer John A. Rutherford, of 1610 C, told police the train was going about 50 miles per hour at the time of the accident.

Did Not See Train.

Rutherford said he did not see the car until it was within 25 feet of the tracks. Vanek said he did not see the train.

The train struck the car on the right rear fender, spinning it around and rolling it into the west ditch about 50 feet from the point of impact.

Vanek said "I don't know how we were thrown from the car." The doors apparently were sprung open by the collision allowing he and his wife to fall from the car as it rolled.

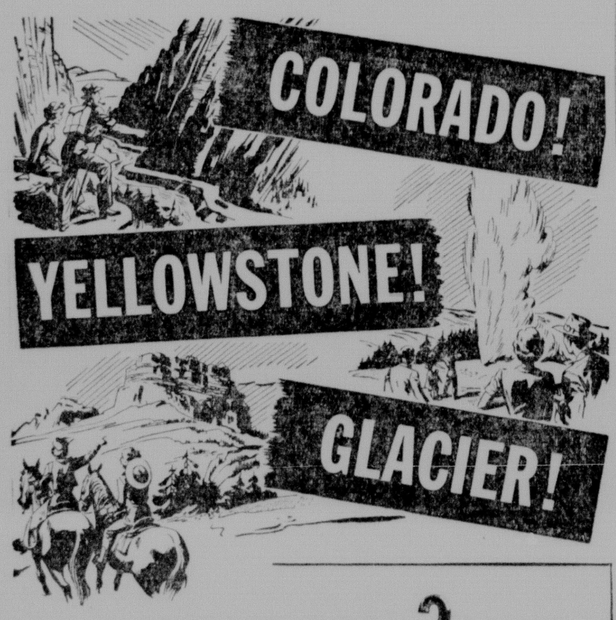

The car was badly damaged. Missouri Pacific officials Wednesday estimated damage to the train at $500, but said the train made its regular run Wednesday morning.

FARM WOMEN'S EXCHANGE

EDITED by CLARA BELL GRAVES

Address your letters to Mrs. Clara Bell Graves, editor, The Lincoln Star Exchange, 905 N. Fifth St., Springfield, Ill.

Miss Margaret Courtwright of 1014 North Ninth street of the city in which I live, Springfield, Ill., at one time a registered nurse, has so successfully put into practice in her own life the philosophy of cheer and hope and determination to be useful as taught in her training course, that she should be of help to some of the other readers who have suffered a temporary handicap.

A few years ago, she became ill and had to give up the work which she so much enjoyed, the healing of sick bodies and distressed minds. While she was recuperating from the long period of weakness, she learned to use her hands at fashioning beautiful bed jackets and housecoats of scraps of velvet and silk and satin that could be used to no better purpose and which had been contributed to her by loyal friends.

She saw a gourd vine parasiting on a tree in her back yard that meant money to her creative hands. She treated the gourds and many of them were hand-painted by her in fantastic color schemes and scenes. She made and sold gourd baskets, wall ornaments and table lamps which she herself wired.

Then she specialized in making hooked rugs. One of the most beautiful patterns that I ever have seen lies upon the floor of the music room in her home. It took her only six months to make this 9x12 floor covering.

In an injury last year, she lost control of her left arm and hand. Now she is making, one-handed, designs in Swedish embroidery on hand towels and selling them to friends. The work is something different from the usual and is attracting the variety fancy of women who see the skill of her hand.

Miss Courtwright has been down but never out.

Gay Easter Bonnets

This year, at Easter time we do not speak figuratively of Easter bonnets, but literally they hang from hat stands and sit upon permanented heads of young women as well as their mothers and grandmothers. Bonnets are the mode.

It is nothing to laugh away if a woman actually sighs or cries that she cannot afford a new hat at Easter because of the tags that tilt the "lids" out of our price range. If she has been a wise woman with an attic, she has saved her hats from year to year and is now ready to make over the old, discarded chapeaux.

Flowers were never more in evidence from the lilac tree replica to the hugh American rose that nearly covers one side of milady's head. Veils are back, some tying in the chin and some fluffing over the hat but never as much veil as in Easters past unless the hat be the big, wide brimmed style.

• • •

Easter Table Pretties

If you never have tried the four layer cake alternating a white and yellow scheme, do so. It is typically Easter. Boiled eggs in shell, with decals pasted on them are something different and easy to do. Such eggs may be used as party favors with a gay ribbon around each one, carrying the name.

IN THE MAIL

Sugarless Lemon Pie

Two and one-third tablespoons cornstarch, three - fourths cup white corn syrup, three-fourths cup boiling water, two whole eggs, one-fourth cup lemon juice, pinch salt, one tablespoon butter, grated rind of one-half lemon. Use plain or make a meringue of egg whites. Fill a baked pie shell with the above filling and bake the already cooked mixture just long enough to brown the meringue if meringue is used. Combine warm filling with warm pie shell. Then cool.

—Mrs. Paul McGrew.

Gold Sponge Cake

Beat four egg yolks in a mixing bowl and add one tablespoon cold water, pinch salt and beat well. Add one-half cup boiling water and beat five minutes longer. Add one and one-half cups granulated sugar and one and one-half cups cake flour to which has been added one-half teaspoon baking powder. Add one-third teaspoon cream of tartar to egg whites and beat, then fold in the above mixture. Bake in angel food cake pan for 40 minutes in a moderate oven or until done.

—Mrs. Robert Murphy.

• • •

Upside-Down Cake

The batter is made of two-thirds cup granulated sugar, one-fourth cup shortening, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one teaspoon vanilla flavoring, one egg, one and one-half cups flour, one-half cup milk, two teaspoons baking powder. Stir up as you would any other cake.

For the filling: Melt one tablespoon butter or margarine in an oblong pan with one-third cup granulated sugar. Put into filling enough fruit to cover the bottom of pan, then pour the batter over. Peaches or pineapple are especially good. You may add a few nuts or maraschino cherries to make a real party cake. Bake in a pre-heated oven at 350 degrees.

—Mrs. Brian Flaherty.

That Easter Ham And Trimmins'

TRADITIONAL DISH . . . Ham and Easter Eggs.

VEGETABLE CASSEROLE . . . Serve it with ham.

If you are planning the traditional ham for Easter you'll find the cooked, ready-to-eat variety easiest of all to prepare—and delicious. All you have to do is to heat it in a moderate oven, counting on about ten minutes per pound if the meat is at room temperature. If the ham comes straight out of the refrigerator you must allow more time. The ten - minutes - per - pound is for ready-to-eat ham weighing 10 to 12 pounds, or for half a ready-to-eat ham weighing 6 to 8 pounds.

As an accompaniment to the meat—whether it's ham, tongue, beef, or lamb—serve the delectable vegetable casserole pictured. Here's the recipe:

VEGETABLE CASSEROLE

Ingredients: 1 pound small yellow onions (about 10), ¼ cup butter or margarine, ¼ cup flour, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ¼ teaspoon ground ginger, 1½ cups milk, 1 three-ounce can sliced broiled mushrooms, 1 twelve-ounce package quick-frozen green peas, grated Parmesan cheese.

Method: Peel onions and cook until barely tender in boiling water to cover, about 15 minutes. Meanwhile, melt butter or margarine in sauce pan over moderate heat. Remove from heat. Add flour, salt, pepper, and ginger and blend well. Add milk and broth from mushroom can gradually, stirring with a whisk after each addition until smooth. Return to moderate heat and cook, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens. Drain onions and arrange in shallow 1-quart baking dish, about 10 x 6 inches. Sprinkle with the peas, that have been defrosted just enough to break apart if necessary, and the drained mushrooms. Pour sauce over vegetables and stir lightly with fork to distribute sauce evenly. Sprinkle lightly with grated Parmesan cheese and bake in a moderate (375° F.) oven until lightly browned and thoroughly hot, about 30 minutes. (The peas should be cooked barely tender in this time.) Makes 4 servings.

Cost Of Food Down 10 Pct. Below Peaks

Average Family Spent $1.83 Less In February

WASHINGTON —(INS)—Farm foods in the average family market basket dropped $1.83 in February and ended up 10 per cent below last summer's peak prices.

The basket is a mythical quantity of food equal to the average annual purchases of a family of three in the 1935-39 period. The agriculture department said today that the total cost of this amount of food declined from $55 in January to $53.17 in February.

Retail prices of all commodities were off with the one exception of fruits and vegetables. These went up 3 per cent.

The department made the tentative forecast that the farm value of the basket—the price actually paid to farmers—will show a slight upturn from February to March.

It was the farmer, however, who bore the brunt of the February decline. He took a cut of $1.08 in the selling price of his commodities while only 75 cents of the drop was attributed to lower marketing costs.

For the month the farmer's share of the consumer food dollar was down to 50 cents. With the one exception of last May, this is the lowest point since 1943.

BATHROOM SCENE WITH A BAT

PINNER, England — (AP) — A bat flew into Mrs. Thorne Baker's bathroom window and settled down on the bathtub ledge to watch her taking a bath.

Mimi, the Bakers' cat, fled. Mrs Baker studied the problem a while, then picked up the animal and tossed it through the open window.

"It made squeaky noises at me," she said.

EMBEZZLING IS ADMITTED BY PRAGER

...Cashier Pleads Guilty

MEMPHIS —(AP)— Weary and reflective, 29-year-old David A. Prager was held in the county jail today after pleading guilty to a charge of embezzlement.

Prager was arrested Monday when he returned from California where, he told police, he had been visiting one of two wives he supported, along with two basketball teams.

Chief of Detectives M. A. Hines said Prager related in a statement how he had embezzled $19,000 over a period of a year from the Hunt-Berlin Coal Co. where he worked as cashier. The company set the figure at $27,762.

"I just didn't think," Prager told newsmen. "If I had thought I wouldn't be where I am now."

Stefan Points Out Communist Figures In America Today

WASHINGTON— (AP) — Investigations indicate there are almost as many communists in the United States today as there were in Russia in 1917, Rep. Karl Stefan (R-Neb.) said today.

In his weekly newsletter, Stefan said when the communist revolution occurred in Russia in 1917 there was only one communist for every 2,277 inhabitants. In the United States today there is one communist for every 2,463 inhabitants.

Stefan said investigations showed that the communist party is organized in 600 communities in the United States.

One man's Opinion

by WALTER KIERNAN

(Distributed by International News Serv.)

Britons complain that Frenchmen are sneaking over for socialized upper plates . . . They don't like the idea of being smiled at with their own teeth.

Visitors are welcome in London but taxpayers would prefer that they come with pockets and cavities both filled.

KIERNAN

Mr. Truman's dentist says he has an "uninteresting mouth" . . . meaning his teeth are too good to interest a forceps fiduciary.

And that may account for his bite in the last campaign, but in congress he seems to gum it.

The president entered his fifth year in office, sound of wind and with most of his teeth and practically none of his legislation.

He's gotten 11 pounds heavier, too, except in the house of representatives where he could use it.

Method: Sift together flour, baking powder, and salt. Beat egg; add milk and beat to combine. Add to dry ingredients; stir only until smooth. Add parsley, onion and vegetable. Drop by teaspoonful into shallow salad oil heated to 365° to 375° F.; fry until brown, about 3 to 5 minutes. Drain on absorbent paper; keep hot. Drain shrimps. Melt butter or margarine in pan; add shrimp. Heat until shrimp are lightly browned. Toss fritters and shrimp together; serve immediately. Makes 4 servings.

Firemen, Police Dive Into Water To Save Boy Sitting At Home

CHICAGO—(AP)—Allan Stuck 9, fell into an excavation being dug for a new filtration plant yesterday. Passers-by who saw the boy fall into the hole partly filled with water and didn't see him climb out, notified police.

Police called firemen, who began pumping operations. But they decided this was too slow. Two firemen of the inhalator squad were lowered by ropes into seven feet of cold water. They came up with a dead dog.

Police left the scene to tell Allan's family what happened. They found Allan, his clothes wet, at home. He said he had fallen into the water but climbed right out and went home.

Twenty-two wet and muddy firemen who joined in the rescue attempt also went home when police told them Allan had saved himself.

Reservist Builds $50,000 Armory For Band Practice

MANKATO, Minn. —(AP)— Even a bill for $50,000 didn't stop Pvt. Arthur E. Schweim when he wanted to toot sweet notes in an army band.

Schweim, 44-year-old farmer, contractor and trumpet player, liked the idea when a 56-piece band was activated here as part of the army organized reserve corps. It meant he could do a little soldiering, and also play his favorite instrument.

Schweim joined up. But he found the unit's meeting place was none too good for the one-night-a-week squads right. And the sweet notes from his trumpet were lost because of poor acoustics.

Leased for $200.

So Schweim, with his own financing and on his own lot, built the unit an armory. It's complete with space for drilling, rifle range, storage space for equipment and, of course, a special sound proof band room where the acoustics are good.

"We needed an armory right away, so I just went out and built it," he said.

The army is leasing it for $200 a month.

"During a recent weekly unit session, members of the outfit were talking about a decent place to carry on their duties," Schweim said. "I told the sergeant I would build a place. He just looked at me with a fishy eye and laughed."

Now Busy Farming.

Later Schweim talked with local reserve officials and army men from Omaha. He learned just what the requirements were for an armory.

"When I started digging for the foundation, another construction job came along, so I just dug the hole a little bigger and made space for a cement company's offices under the same roof. The armory part of the building cost about $50,000."

The building is 110 feet by 98 feet. The army has 50 by 100 feet, with a total of 10,000 square feet of working space on the ground floor and in the basement of the one story cement block structure. Several other Mankato reserve units have office space and also use the armory.

Schweim, speaking this time as a farmer said he was through for a little while with construction jobs. He's got to get out and seed his fields. He has a 160-acre farm where he lives with his wife and three children.

When the evening chores are done, he's going to pucker up on the trumpet and keep in musical trim.

Windsors' Visit To England May End Cold-Shouldering

LONDON — (INS) — The Duke and Duchess of Windsor began a holiday in England today, amid speculation whether Britain's aristocrats will stop boycotting the woman for whom their former king quit his throne.

The duke met the former Wallis Simpson at Victoria station on her arrival from Paris. They immediately drove to Ednam lodge, Sunningdale, where they will remain for the Easter vacation.

Some London newspapers have suggested that the current visit of the Windsors should mark an end to the cold-shouldering the duchess has received from the royal family.

10,212 Vets Buy Homes In State With G. I. Loans

A total of 10,212 World war II veterans in Nebraska have used G. I. loans to purchase homes since the end of the war, the Veterans Administration reported Thursday.

Ashley Westmoreland, Lincoln regional office manager, said veterans have obtained G.I. home loans totalling $45,582,411 since the G.I. bill was enacted in 1944. Of this amount, VA guaranteed or insured the mortgage lenders against loss for a total of $22,953,891.

In this state 1,257 veterans obtained G.I. home loan financing during 1948, as compared with 3,586 in 1947 and 4,650 in 1946.

Westmoreland pointed out veterans have until 1957 to apply for a G.I. loan and urged them to move cautiously and seek sound advice before investing.

Program Of The Quill

A discussion of writing methods, publishing concerns, and national book clubs was held Tuesday evening at the regular meeting of The Quill, held at the home of Mrs. W. E. Sealock and Miss Thelma Sealock. A character sketch, "Doc," was read by Mrs. B. A. Cosner, and Mrs. F. C. Radke read her recently published article, "What's New in Text Book Making."

Eleven members were present.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. G. S. Cook the evening of Tuesday, April 26.

Camp Fire Activity

The Lincoln Camp Fire Girls have completed plans for their annual doughnut sale and have set a goal of 22,000 dozen doughnuts to be sold with proceeds from the sale going for improvement of Camp Kiwanis at Milford.

Mrs. Fred Gardner, president of the Lincoln council of Camp Fire Girls, has announced that the members selling the greatest amount will receive two weeks at camp free of charge, with second and third place winners receiving one free week. Other prizes will be awarded and will be shared equally with Blue Bird members.

Orders for doughnuts will be taken through April 24, for delivery the week of May 9.

MRS. ROBERT EARL WILKINS

Gladys Ellen Grothe Marries Robert E. Wilkins

AT AFTERNOON CEREMONY

At a 4:30 o'clock ceremony solemnized this afternoon at the First Methodist church at Geneva, Miss Gladys Ellen Grothe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John James Grothe of Geneva, became the bride of Robert Earl Wilkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl H. Wilkins, also of Geneva. White gladioli were arranged in pedestal baskets before a screen of greenery to decorate the chancel, and white candles burned in seven-branched holders at either side of the altar. The lighted tapers, tied with bows of white satin, also marked the processional aisle.

The Rev. Ben Wallace, minister of the First Methodist church at Geneva, read the lines of the service in the presence of two hundred guests.

The wedding music was played by Mrs. Bill Galbraith of Lincoln, organist, who also presented a prelude including Schubert's "Ave Maria" and "Serenade," "Evening Star," Wagner, and the Alpha Phi and Delta Upsilon sweetheart songs. Mrs. Galbraith also accompanied Miss Jo Anne Bergman of Omaha who sang "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer," preceding the service.

The matron of honor was Mrs. John Knudsen of Jonesburg, Mo., who wore a marquisette gown in the Willow rose tone. Wearing hyacinth blue marquisette was the maid of honor, Miss Norma Grothe of Geneva, and the bridesmaids, Miss Beth Margaret Wilkins of Geneva, and Miss Marge Barney of Friend, were frocked in pastel pink marquisette. The attendants' identical gowns were fashioned in the colonial mode with fitted basques and full skirts, and they wore brimmed Mary, Queen of Scots, bonnets and long mitts of marquisette to match their frocks. Pastel sweetpeas and spring blossoms formed their nosegay bouquets.

Frocked in floor length colonial gowns of blue taffeta were the flower girls, Miss Carol Ruth Grothe of Geneva, and Miss Linda Alice Kohler of Milligan, who also carried nosegays of spring flowers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a princess gown of ivory satin. The high rounded yoke of sheer net was framed by a wide band of the satin in the off-shoulder mode, and the fitted bodice was completed with long sleeves which came to points over the hands. The full skirt tapered from unpressed pleats into a chapel-length train, and her silk illusion veil was held to the head by a halo of pleated satin.

Hugh F. Wilkins of Geneva served his brother as best man, and the ushers were William W. Wilkins, Charles A. Grothe and James A. Biba, all of Geneva, and Ronald B. Rosenau of Lincoln.

A reception was held in the parlors of the church following the ceremony. Included among those assisting at the reception were Mrs. Robert Southworth and Miss Mary Jo Schmale, both of Lincoln.

Mr. Wilkins and his bride will make their home at Des Moines, Iowa, upon conclusion of a wedding trip to the Ozarks and New Orleans, La. For traveling, Mrs. Wilkins wore a green gabardine suit with a beige wool topper. Her accessories were in the cocoa brown shade and she completed her costume with a cloche of green straw.

The bride is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where she served as president of Alpha Phi sorority and is a member of Delta Sigma Chi and Psi Chi. Mr. Wilkins was graduated from the University of Nebraska college of business administration and received his master's degree from Leland Stanford university on April 1. He is a member of Delta Upsilon fraternity.

Ceremony Solemnized

Pedestal baskets filled with yellow and white snapdragons and yellow jonquils, were arranged against a screen of greenery to form a background for the marriage of Miss Darthula Null, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Null, to John C. Merrill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Merrill of Pleasant Dale, which was solemnized at an 8 o'clock ceremony on Saturday evening, April 2, at the Second Baptist church. The Rev. Thomas Barton read the lines of the service in the presence of two hundred guests. Miss Ruth Dennison, organist played the wedding music, and also accompanied H. C. McClellan who sang, "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Mrs. Dallas Nelson of Bayard was her sister's matron of honor and appeared in a frock of gold-toned satin. Her colonial bouquet was of white carnations, and her headdress was a tiara of silver and white flowers. The bridesmaids, Miss Jeanne Bartizal and Mrs. Jean Schmersal, wore frocks of triple sheer over taffeta in shades of orchid and blue, and carried matching lace muffs centered with corsages of sweetpeas. Their hair bandeaus were fashioned of white flowers. The candles were lighted by Miss Colleen Martin, in peach taffeta, and Miss Patricia Leighty whose taffeta frock was in the pastel blue shade. Gary Wayne Glover carried the ring, and the flower girl, in a Kate Greenaway frock of white net over satin, was Karen Kay Glover.

Gene Steuck of Pleasant Dale, served Mr. Merrill as best man, and the ushers were Dallas Nelson, Bayard; John Montgomery, Robert Woodward and Donald Hafferty.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white embroidered satin and net. Gathered to the fitted bodice, with its heart-shaped neckline, and long sleeves finished with wrist-points, was the full skirt veiled with net, which ended in an aisle-wide train. Her veil of bridal illusion was fingertip, and was held to the head with a coronet ornamented with seed pears. She carried an imperial bouquet of white carnations, centered with an orchid.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors where the refreshment table was centered with a tiered wedding cake, encircled with sweetpeas, and appointed with white tapers in three-branched candelabra. Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Harold Tyson, Mrs. Herbert Glover, Mrs. L. D. Null, Mrs Charles Houser, Miss Dorothy Taber, Miss Shirley Grant, Mrs. Ralph Kapke, Mrs. Harry Nobbman.

For the short honeymoon trip, after which Mr. Merrill and his bride will return to Lincoln to reside, Mrs. Merrill wore a two-tone gray and navy blue suit, with accessories in matching shade of gray.

Mr. Merrill served three years in the navy during the war, and now is stationed at the naval air base in Lincoln.

LUCK IS WHERE YOU FIND IT

SOME PEOPLE ARE BORN with a silver spoon full of luck—Some folks acquire it, and others just have a good fairy perched on their shoulder.

Of course intelligence, ambition and a few other things have something to do with success, too—So it is small wonder that the current issue of Mademoiselle chose to feature the Fred Hadsels—

• • •

OUR PERSONAL INTEREST in the Hadsels, of course, really involves Mrs. Hadsel—the former Winifred Nelson of Lincoln, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Nelson who now are residing in Lincoln.

On the Nebraska campus Mrs. Hadsel is a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority, and is a Mortar Board. She served as president of Alpha Lambda Delta, and also of the university Y.W.C.A. board; was a member of Vestals of the Lamp, and received the Panhellenic scholarship award. She received her master's degree at Nebraska, and did graduate work at the University of Chicago where she was awarded the Cleo Hearon fellowship in history.

Mr. Hadsel, it seems, went to school all over the world, but he received his doctorate, also in history at the University of Chicago.

• • •

AND NOW THAT YOU HAVE some of the background we'll quote from Mademoiselle—page 194—on which there is a large picture of the Hadsels taken at their home—and more about the home later—

"The cold war in Berlin and the Austrian peace treaty are matters for more than parlor speculation in the Fred Hadsel home. As state department specialists, the Hadsels work with facts and figures that underlie American foreign policy. Winifred, a foreign affairs analyst, moved to the state department in November from the staff of the Foreign Policy Association. She'd done research, and had gone to Europe for the FPA study, 'Austria Under the Occupation'. Fred, a historian, did an ETO tour of duty recording army history and taught international relations at Rutgers before coming to the state department. At the University of Chicago, Winifred did graduate work and Fred took his doctorate in European history. Domestic affairs for the Hadsels center on their very young daughter, Mary Christine, a competent fulltime maid—the envy of all of their friends—and a 1790 house reputedly built by George Washington."

One important fact about the Hadsel home that Mademoiselle disregarded, is its location—It is at 123 South Penn street, Alexandria, Va.

• • •

BUT NOW TO NEWS OF THE HOME front—

Hear that the members of the Terpsichorean closed their dancing season with election of new officers for the coming year—The executives recently named are Dr. L. D. Arnot, president; S. S. Wrobleski, vice-president; Mrs. Charles Melker, secretary, and William Bitter, treasurer.

• • •

MENTIONING THE NAME "Arnot" reminded us that Mrs. L. D. Arnot has just returned home after spending a month as the guest of her mother at Long Beach and Palm Springs, Cal.

• • •

OFF FRIDAY MORNING to plane in to New York City will be Mrs. C. M. Sutherland, who will be accompanied by her son, C. Austin Sutherland of Washington, D. C., who arrived in town on Wednesday from Denver. In New York Mrs. Sutherland will be met by her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wheelock (Carol Sutherland), with whom she will spend a week at their home in Sherman, Conn.

Before returning to Lincoln Mrs. Sutherland will spend a week with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. Austin Sutherland, Washington, D. C.—and from there will go to St. Paul, Minn., for a week's visit with another son, Donald Sutherland, and Mrs. Sutherland.

• • •

ON THE GUEST LIST in Lincoln for the Easter week-end is Mrs. Anderson Morgan of Redondo Beach, Cal., who flew from the west coast to New York City for a several days stay — and stopped off in Lincoln en route home. Mrs. Morgan is the house guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wentz.

• • •

GOING AWAY FOR THE Easter week-end is Mrs. Roland Max Anderson who leaves on Friday for Denver where she will spend a few days with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Max Anderson, jr.

• • •

BUT BEFORE SHE LEAVES for Denver Mrs. Anderson was a luncheon hostess — She entertained the members of her bridge eightsome at luncheon today at the Lincoln Country club. The group remained at the club for an afternoon of bridge.

• • •

WHEN MR. AND MRS. DONALD DIXON preside at dinner this evening at the University club, it will be in celebration of their wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Dixon have invited sixteen guests for the dinner and an informal evening.

• • •

TODAY WE CAN UNDERSTAND why anyone who could would leave Nebraska for a vacation—especially one in the south—And that is just what Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Overgaard and their children have done. They are spending this week in Texas.

• • •

AND HOME IN TIME FOR winter's second honeymoon are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Willis who had been spending the winter at Long Beach, Cal.- And arriving almost at the same time, were their daughter, Mrs. George Foster, III (Virginia Willis), and her son, George IV, of Stamford, Conn., who will spend several weeks here.

• • •

COMING TO LINCOLN FOR Easter Sunday will be Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Humphrey of Daykin, who will join a family group at dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Dixon.

BARBARA LEE PEJSAR

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Pejsar are today announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their sister, Miss Barbara Lee Pejsar, daughter of the late Mrs. G. R. DuVall and the late John Pejsar, of Western, and granddaughter of Mrs. Augusta Freeborn of Swanton, to Max W. Blank, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Blank of Franklin.

The wedding will take place on Thursday evening, June 2, and the ceremony will be solemnized in Memorial chapel, St. Paul Methodist church.

Mr. Blank is a senior at the University of Nebraska where he is a member of Sigma Tau, Pi Tau Sigma, and Pi Mu Epsilon. He also is a pilot with the Nebraska national guard air unit.

Marriage Is Announced

The marriage of Miss Lucille Cohen of Lincoln, to Jack Rapaport of Muskegon, Mich., has been announced by Miss Cohen's brother, Mike Cohen. The ceremony was solemnized on Friday, April 8, at Grand Rapids, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. Rapaport will make their home at Muskegon.

TWO STRIP TEASERS DO BATTLE

...No Holds Barred

NEW YORK — (AP) — Strip tease artists Georgia Sothern and Joann Collier battled it out early yesterday on a Manhattan sidewalk—with no holds barred.

Apparently Georgia won, even though flattened three times. At least, she is still star of the floor show at Bradley's on East 54th street.

The two disagreed over who gets the closing spot in the show—and who wears the falsies.

The two punched, scratched and bruised each other until separated by a couple of brave males.

Arnold Shields, an assistant manager at Bradley's and a ringsider at the street fight in front of the night spot at 3:45 a. m., told it this way:

Blonde Joann had the closing spot in the show until about a week ago when blonde Georgia took over in her spot. There was a clash of temperaments.

Then, Georgia said, Joann "accused me of wearing falsies."

"In my trade," she said, "the wearing of falsies is impossible."

Joann insisted, however. But she admitted:

"To be fair, I don't know if Georgia wears her falsies when she strips. But I do know she wears them in her evening dress."

The last words of the combatants were:

Joann—"She appears puny to me."

Measure Exempting Chiropractors From Exam Is Discussed

Legislation providing for exemption of chiropractors from taking the state's "basic science examination" was the center of discussion Wednesday night at a meeting of the County Chiropractors association at the Y. M. C. A.

Dr. F. S. Lange, in interpreting the bill said exemption is "unnecessary" because chiropractors do not practice surgery, obstetrics, use drugs or internal medicine.

The association also discussed possibility of participating in National Correct Posture week, May 1-7, sponsored annually by the national association. Dr. G. F. Meyer, president, presided at the meeting.

Chapter 22

"No," she whispered. "No, I don't—I can't believe it—that someone would want to poison me!"

"Ellen"—his voice was urgent—"don't you think we ought to let the police know right away?"

She bit her lip. "But you promised!" she begged.

Finally she nodded her head wearily. "You're probably right. But don't call them right away. Wait just until morning. I think I'd like to tell Mrs. Bray what's in store for her first. And nothing more will happen until morning."

"Okay, Ellen, if you say so."

He looked at her, scrutinizing her face with some concern.

"How would you like to get into some clothes and go up to Hubbard's office?

She dashed into the bedroom.

It was eight minutes later when she came out. Under her coat she had on black corduroy slacks and a soft green turtle-neck sweater. Green fuzzy ear-muffs covered her ears.

"Have you got the key to the inner office?" he asked.

"Right here." She handed him the key. They went out, locking the door behind them.

Fresh snow had fallen and sparkled under the street lights. The drive to the campus took only seven minutes.

"We'll take this flashlight," Raff said. "No sense putting the big light on and announcing to the whole campus what we're doing."

They walked through the soft snow and Ellen unlocked the main front door of the building.

They walked down the hall quickly and through Ellen's office to the door leading to Hubbard's inner office.

Raff took the key Ellen had given him earlier and fitted it into the keyhole. The key turned easily. He turned the knob but the door remained shut. He frowned and turned the key again. The door opened easily.

"This door wasn't shut," Raff told her.

"That is peculiar," said Ellen. "I don't know who could have unlocked it."

"Who else has a key?"

"No one. I told you that this afternoon. No one but Dr. Hubbard and the janitor."

"Bray must have had one," he reminded her.

"Yes, that's right. That never occurred to me before. He must have had one in order to have gotten in here that Sunday night."

"How about Fenton?"

"Oh, Dr. Fenton doesn't have one, I know." She spoke as if convinced.

"How did you get this key?" he asked.

"The janitor," she replied laconically. "Simple, wasn't it?"

"Too simple!" he snorted. "I wonder how many others have taken advantage of this idea before. You can have a duplicate key made any place in town for fifty cents."

Ellen was excited. "Well, say! All we have to do is ask the janitor to tell us who borrowed his key recently."

"Good idea, Ellen. But since we're here, let's take a look around first."

He moved his flashlight in his hand. "You know this room. Does it look as if anything has been disturbed?"

"No," she said, "everything looks the way it always did."

She stopped before the chemical shelf. Mechanically she reached for a bottle.

"This bottle doesn't belong here," she muttered, and put it back in its place.

"What bottle?"

"This one." She handed him the bottle, still mystified by his savage reaction. "What's so important about it?"

He grabbed the bottle from her. The label showed a list of chemical compounds.

"How do you know it was out of line?" he demanded.

"My goodness, don't bark at me."

"I'm sorry. But how did you know?"

"Well, I know the cleaning women were in here on Wednesday morning. Remember, I told you that. And they always dust the chemicals and arrange the bottles according to size. And this big bottle was out here by all the little ones when it obviously belongs in this space back here." She looked at him curiously. "That stuff isn't poisonous, is it?"

"Do you remember telling me that Hubbard used to keep an electric heater going in this room?"

"Yes," she said. "There it is over in the corner."

"And did he keep the windows closed?"

"Yes, almost always. Especially in the winter."

"And was he a sound sleeper?"

"Yes, I'd say he was a pretty sound sleeper. But why all these questions?"

He sighed. "You see, my dear child," he said with exaggerated patience, "it would be a simple matter for anyone with a key to get into the office and pour some of this mixture onto the red hot wires of the heater."

"Well, so what happens? Does that make phosgene?"

He nodded. "The mixture of chemicals in that bottle makes phosgene. And that makes murder."

"But, ye gods! Wouldn't the chief have smelled the stuff? Wouldn't he have coughed, or something?"

"The odor of phosgene," and I quote from the 'Army Index to Chemical Warfare,' is, quote, 'similar to that of new mown hay,' unquote. I don't imagine anyone would find that too unpleasant on a cold, wintry day."

"But then why didn't they—the one who did it—why didn't he die the way Dr. Hubbard did?"

"I imagine he must have held his breath while he poured the stuff on and then gone out immediately, closing the door. There would have been enough of the gas generated so that anyone breathing it for, say, ten minutes would get a fatal dose."

"So Dr. Hubbard really was murdered."

"The answer is yes. As it turns out, Bray wasn't talking through his hat. And that's why he paid for it with his life."

'SHIMMY DANCE QUEEN' SUES PICTURE FIRM

...For Use of Name 'Gilda'

DENVER — (INS) — Gilda Gray, who captured international fame in the Roaring 20's as "Queen of the Shimmy Dancers," has filed suit against Columbia Motion Pictures corporation for one million dollars.

The former Broadway favorite appeared with one of her attorneys, Ivor O. Wingren of Denver, to register the legal action in U. S. District court yesterday morning.

The still-glamorous dancer who has taken up a quiet rural life on a ranch near Larkspur, Colo., charged that Columbia's picture, "Gilda," was based on her life and "invaded her privacy."

Used Name Since 1919.

Miss Gray said the boxoffice hit also subjected her to humiliation and public notoriety.

The dancer alleged in her complaint that she has used the name "Gilda" since 1919 and that it sets her apart from other actresses, dancers and persons in the theatrical world.

The name the suit alleged, "has acquired a unique significance as exclusively identifying the plaintiff in the minds of the public in the United States and other countries."

Gilda Gray listed her true name as Maryanna Michalska. She alleged in her suit that she developed the shimmy dance which brought her fame.

Consolidation Of State-Wide Educational Activities Urged

...By State Supt. Wayne Reed

Consolidation of state-wide educational activities outside the college level, was advocated to the educational committee of the legislature Wednesday by State Supt. Wayne O. Reed. He informally sought advice and aid in the introduction of a constitutional amendment.

The plan discussed would provide for a seven member state board of education of lay members similar to the plan used in city school districts. They would appoint the superintendent or commissioner.

Aim Is Economy.

The board would consist of laymen appointed by the governor and serve without pay except for expenses.

Under the control of the board would be the present activities of the state superintendent's office directing academic instruction. It would also take over activities of the board of vocational education which directs the veterans on-the-job training program, Milford trade school, rehabilitation and vocational training.

It is argued that the consolidation would result in efficiency and economy. Giving the board power to hire and fix the salary of the commissioner, it is contended, would permit getting the highest type educator to head the state school system.

Voters Would Decide.

Reed expressed confidence the proposal would be approved by the voters, pointing out that where it has been submitted in other states it has only been defeated where opposed by the state school administration. He said he would lead the campaign in its behalf.

The proposal comes from an unorganized group of educators, Reed said.

Members of the committee were only luke warm toward the proposal and said it was getting late in the session to introduce such a bill for which there has been no public demand. They said proposals for new commissioners have not been favorably received by the membership.

No action will be taken pending further discussions with other members of the legislature. If the proposed bill is not introduced, it was suggested to Reed that the measure could still be put on the 1950 ballot by initiative petition.

Hoover Report On Missouri Basin Assailed

Waste Charge Criticized By Peterson

Asks Senate To Probe Method Of Gathering Data

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Several Nebraskans, among them Governor Val Peterson, were among witnesses at a senate appropriations hearing yesterday who criticized the Hoover commission report on the Missouri basin and a proposed Missouri Valley Authority.

Peterson and Gov. George T. Mickelson of South Dakota joined other witnesses in unanimous opposition to the MVA proposal.

The two governors assailed the basin report compiled by a task force working under the commission headed by former President Herbert Hoover.

Peterson said that the report was written "almost entirely on information obtained here in Washington." He suggested that the senate investigate the task force's methods of gathering data.

Mickelson said that neither he "nor any other governor in the valley" had been contacted by the Hoover group.

"The report," he said, "does not represent the feelings of the people of the valley."

The commission report criticized administration of the valley development program and charged dissension among government agencies taking part. It reported that duties and functions of these agencies "often overlap" resulting in wasted efficiency.

'Unsubstantiated' Charges.

"There is no waste under the present setup," Peterson said. "It is easy for any group to employ generalities and talk about overlapping functions. But even these charges by the Hoover commission are unsubstantiated."

The Missouri Valley Authority proposal drew fire from every one of the witnesses who appeared in support of increased appropriations for valley projects.

All of the witnesses praised Maj. Gen. Lewis A. Pick, chief of army engineers, for the progress made in the development program and expressed complete satisfaction with the Pick-Sloan plan of development.

Keifer Testifies.

Peterson said that the full amount approved by the budget bureau would "penalize" the program "by at least a full year" and that the amount voted by the house would result in an additional year's relay.

Army engineers recommended approximately $163,000,000 for the program. This was cut to $99,000,000 by the budget bureau and further reduced to approximately $73,600,000 by the house.

Oswin Keifer, president of the Bostwick (Neb) irrigation district, urged more money for the Harlan county dam, contending that it is "economy to speed a project once it is started."

"The Harlan county dam needs $15,000,000 for next year," he said. The house bill includes $9,300,000.

C. C. Sheldon, Columbus, Neb., director and treasurer of the Consumers Public Power District, testified that "every day's delay in getting the Pick-Sloan plan into profitable production is a needless expense which must be borne by the taxpayers."

Henry D. McCampbell and Winn Burr, both of Omaha, urged congress to continue the Pick-Sloan plan.

Senator Butler (R-Neb) asked that the full budget request for valley projects be approved and Senator Wherry (R-Neb) said he wanted "full consideration" of army engineers' proposals.

The machines are (left to right) a colorimeter for determining the soil's content of potash and phosphorus. The center instrument is for testing soil acidity. The machine at right is a conductivity bridge for soluble salt determination. (University of Nebraska Photo.)

RENT CONTROL SURVEY

ALLIANCE, Neb. —(AP)— A survey of property owners here indicates a general increase in rents will not follow the lifting of federal rent controls in Alliance. The Alliance Times-Herald, which made the survey, said the landlords were unanimous in that opinion.

JOB QUALIFICATIONS.

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb.—(AP)—Scottsbluff's first city manager must be a man who has held such a job before, and one who has never lived here. The newly elected city council decided on those qualifications as it began sifting 16 applications for the job.

Soil Testing Laboratory Expanded To Meet Demand

...Expect Heavy Flood Of Samples This Spring

The University of Nebraska's soil testing laboratory has completed the expansion of its facilities for the expected heavy flood of samples this spring from the state's farmers.

Interest in soil testing and remedying its deficiencies had outgrown the former facilities. Only 2,000 soil samples could be tested last year, but facilities now are such that 10,000 samples can be handled along with a more complete test of soil. The university's agronomy department and the extension service are co-operating in the project.

New Machines Added.

The expansion included enlarging two rooms in experiment station hall, one for storage of samples and the other for tests. Three new machines have been added. They include the colorimeter for determining the soil's content of potash and phosphorus, a machine for testing soil acidity and a conductivity bridge for soluble salt determination.

Test of soil samples now will include an estimate of soil texture, structure, organic matter content, acidity, lime content, soluble phosphorus and exchangeable potash. Mrs. William Vern North, laboratory technician, has been doing most of the testing in the past. More personnel are to be added.

Both Top, Subsoil Sought.

Soil samples are sent to the agricultural college direct from the county extension agent, who will give the farmer assistance in compiling information about the soil which is needed in making the test and report.

H. G. Gould, associate director of the agricultural extension service, said farmers are urged to send in both top soil and subsoil samples to get a complete test. The testing fee is $1 per sample to cover the cost of labor and testing materials. Other costs will be absorbed by the university.

The report, which goes back to the farmer through the county agent's office, will include recommendations on remedying defects in the soil by staff members of the agricultural college.

CONSERVATION GROUP PLANNED FOR NEBRASKA

...By State Bankers

OMAHA —(AP)— A committee of Nebraska bankers plans to establish a Nebraska conservation foundation.

The organization will be aimed at bringing a soil conservation education program to the "grass roots" of Nebraska.

Plans for the foundation were announced by H. H. Kenner, Hebron, president of the Nebraska Bankers association after a meeting yesterday of the executive council of that organization.

A committee of five has been named to perfect the non-profit foundation within a month, Kenner said.

Erosion Figure High.

Since all but two of the 408 Nebraska banks are members of the bankers association, "the bankers feel they will reach a great number of people at the grass roots on this program," Kenner said.

Bankers are appalled, he declared, by the fact that 50 per cent of the state acreage is in a state of mild to severe erosion.

"That is definitely affecting production," he added.

A committee of five bankers was named to perfect within 30 days a non-profit organization to be known as Nebraska conservation foundation. When that is done, Kenner said, Nebraska will be the first state to have a sponsored soil saving program.

No Competitive Campaign.

The NBA campaign is not competitive with soil conservation agencies, Kenner said. It is designed to channel soil conservation information to farmers to get action.

Framing of the foundation will be in the hands of the following:

Walter Chase, president of the Farmers National bank at Pilger and a former county agent; Burnham Yates, vice president of Lincoln's First National bank; John Davis, vice president of Omaha's First National bank; H. W. Schepman, vice president of the Johnson County bank of Tecumseh and J. O. Peck, president of the Central National bank, Columbus, and immediate past president of the NBA.

Bankers over the state will hear about the soil saving plan in NBA group meetings next week.

State Star Farmer Modest About Honor

OMAHA— (AP) — Nebraska's 1949 star farmer, who parlayed a $109 initial capital into a labor profit over four years of $4,770, is modest about it all.

"Why, there are lots of fellows my age out in the western part of the state that make two and three times that much, raising purebred cattle," said 17-year-old Roger Stukenholtz of Nebraska City. "I guess I got the title because I don't specialize in anything."

Stukenholtz received the star farmer award at the Future Farmers of America convention here.

"Economic Conditions Are Fluid," Dr. Clark Says

...Inflation Could Continue Or Recession Set In

"Inflation could easily continue or a recession set in," Dr. John D. Clark, a member of President Truman's Council of Economic Advisers, declared Wednesday afternoon in a University of Nebraska convocation address.

"Right now economic conditions are fluid," Clark reported and he pointed out that the years of World war II brought what he termed "revolutionary changes" in the U. S. economy which "we cannot yet appreciate."

"A month ago," Dr. Clark said, "there was an unexpected and gratifying increase in the number of workers with jobs, but there have also been spreading price reductions which are reaching deeper into the costs of production of other manufacturers. The situation is, in our opinion, still fluid. It can move either way.

Inflation Dangerous.

"If inflation is resumed even on a very limited scale it would be highly dangerous because it would be piled on top of a business structure which has been built to precarious levels in a boom which has lasted twice as long and has risen twice as high as any in our peacetime history," he added.

That is the reason the council has been plugging for legislation to restrain inflation, Dr. Clark declared.

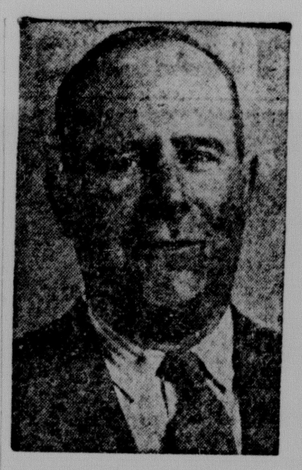

"But," he said, "we have surely learned that it is very difficult to secure congressional action to establish them (controls) when inflation is actually at work. The simple truth is that inflation is pleasant and no one really wants to halt it."

Dr. Clark asserted that one of the ironical twists to the present economic situation is the attitude of the "business world" itself.

"The stabilizing factors upon which the business world is relying to save us from the disaster of a business collapse," he said, "turn out to be those policies of government which are condemned as the New Deal and which these businessmen bitterly opposed upon the ground that they would ruin the country.

"The farm price support policy, the unemployment insurance, minimum wage and other social security laws, the measures for liberal and cheap credit, government aid for housing, and the large government budget itself lead the list," he said, adding, "But I must confess that I have far less confidence than they have in the power of these measures."

Room Ransacked—Thor Dahl, 521 North Sixteenth, reported to police Wednesday night that his room had been entered and ransacked during the late afternoon or early evening. The room was entered by removing a padlock from the door, he said. Nothing was missing.

Vet Gives Barber Video Set In Return For Free Service

NEW YORK—(AP)—A young veteran has given a Brooklyn barber a television set to boom his business, in return for eight years of free haircuts, shampoos and massages.

The donor Samuel Bernstein, 26, has a motto—"Live and help live."

His favorite barber, Abe Chayet, had been losing business since a rival barber opened a shop across the street.

So Bernstein, putting his motto into practice, bought a television set for $425 and had it installed in Chayet's place.

In return, the barber agreed to give Bernstein a weekly shampoo (50 cents), a bi-weekly haircut (85 cents) and a bi-weekly massage (50 cents) until he has paid off the customer's investment with 2 per cent interest. Bernstein shaves himself.

In addition, Bernstein can watch the television—except when he's under the massage hot towels or shampoo suds.

"Now the place is packed," says Barber Chayet.

Fewer Italians Marry

ROME—(AP)—Fewer Italians were married and fewer buried in 1948 compared with 1947, the Central Institute of Statistics says.

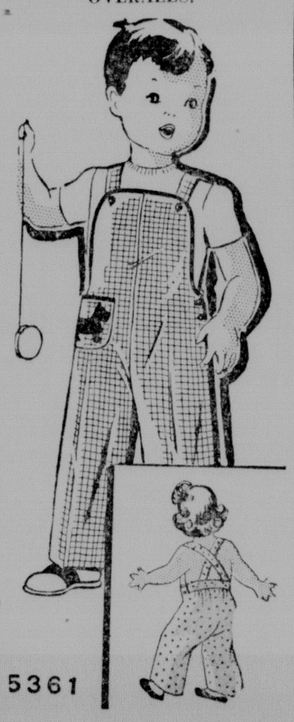

Last year, the Institute reported, 376,529 marriages were celebrated, 50,518 less than the previous year.

The number of marriages per 1,000 persons last year was 8.2.

Deaths last year totalled 482,054, down 34,450 from 1947. The Institute says Italy's mortality rate in 1948 was 10.5 per 1,000 inhabitants compared to 11.4 in 1947.

A large number of Italian deaths, however, are not regularly recorded. The United States' mortality rate in 1946, for example, was 10 per 1,000 inhabitants—the best on record.

FIVE RECORDS TUMBLE AS SCARLET GAINS 76-55 EDGE OVER JAYHAWKS

By ALAN THOMPSON
(Star Sports Staff Member)

WHAT was purported to be little more than a mid-week workout between the Kansas and Nebraska track squads turned out to be a good deal more than the anticipated Husker victory, 76-55, at Memorial stadium Wednesday afternoon.

For one thing, the somewhat sparse crowd was rewarded with a half-mile performance that surpassed Glen Cunningham's 1:55.7 dual meet record set in 1933.

Jayhawker Pat Bowers could have walked the last five yards and still have broken it, but instead he sliced it way down to 1:53.3.

Three other marks fell and one was tied.

The biggest surprise among surprises came in the javelin. Dick Piderit, whom Nebraska Coach Ed Weir was reluctant to enter, moved the top distance out to 197 feet ten inches.

The Husker senior warmed up by winning his specialty, the shot put, with a toss of 48 feet nine inches. One of his scratched throws in the javelin traveled over the 200 foot line.

HURLBERT WINS.

Nebraskan loyal Hurlbert lowered the quarter-mile mark to 49.3, and anchored the mile relay team to another record breaking time. The relay combination included Don Vollertsen, Jim Martin, and Fritz Ware.

Both hurdle marks now carry Jack Greenwood's name. The Jayhawker ran a 14.7 second flight of highs, and tied the record for the lows with 23.8.

Harry Meginnis was the third double winner. He took the 100-yard dash and the 220, trailed by Dick Hutton and Al Thompson in all-Nebraska finish in both races.

Kansas, however, swept the two races at the opposite extreme of distance. Bowers, Hal Hinchee, and Bob Karnes chose to finish in a dead heat at 4:27.6 in mile.

Karnes let Cliff Able go ahead in the two-mile, while he "talked in" Dave Breidenthal for a second-third place tie. Able's time was 10:00.4.

HIGH JUMP SPLIT.

A three-way tie for first place in the high jump included one Nebraskan, Dick Meissner, and Jayhawkers Bill Richardson and Del Norris. The height was five feet 11⅝ inches.

With Leonard Kehl excused because of an ankle injury, Kansas took first and second in the pole vault. John Wassmer cleared 12 feet six inches.

Besides the sprints Kansas was shut out in the broad jump. Owen Brainard won the event with 22 feet even ahead of Ted Randolf and Jim McConnell.

The summeries:

BRAVES-RED SOX.

HARTFORD, Conn.—(AP)—Ted Williams delighted an overflow crowd of 8,447 fans Wednesday by belting three home runs for the Boston Red Sox as the American league pennant contenders played a 10-10 tie exhibition with the National league champion Boston Braves.

The tall slugger had a perfect day at bat as he singled and walked on his other two trips to the plate in the game which was called because of darkness after nine innings which lasted two hours and 23 minutes.

Four of the Sox runs were edriven in by Williams, who was challenged somewhat for hitting honors by Al Dark, Braves' shortstop, who hit safely in four of his five times at bat. Two of Dark's clouts were doubles.

Boston (N) . . .0 4 0 1 2 3 0 0 0—10 14 3

JAYHAWK IN FRONT—Jack Greenwood of Kansas (left) has a slim lead as the field goes over the last barrier in the 120-yard high hurdle race. He kept the margin to win in :14.7. The time broke the old record by Lloyd Cardwell of Nebraska. Huskers pictured are Willis Jones (second from left), third; Ray Magsamen (third from left) and Bob Berkshire (right), second. Grid Bears Grab St. Ambrose Star

CHICAGO —(AP)— Lawrence Don Whan, halfback from St. Ambrose college of Davenport, Ia., has signed a contract with the Chicago Bears for the 1949 national football season, Owner-Coach George Halas said today.

Whan, the 11th newcomer to be signed by the Bears for next season's campaign, is from Rock Island, Ill. He was a member of the Northwestern university football varsity as a freshman in 1945 before he transferred to St. Ambrose.

Rockets Claim Columbus Title

. . . WIN CLASS A AWARD

(Special to The Star)

COLUMBUS, Neb.—Three victories in field events and a sprinkling of points on the track enabled Northeast to take home the Class A championship at the Columbus invitational track meet here Wednesday.

But the Rockets had to yield the spotlight to George Prochaska of Ulysses. This one-man gang scored 37 points by himself to lead his team to the Class B crown.

Ulysses totalled 42½ points to replace College View as the Class B ruler. The Viewmen wound up in second place with 34 5/14 points.

Included in Prochaska's individual contribution to the Ulysses score were firsts in the nigh jump, pole vault, discus and broad jump. He added a second place in the shot put.

Three meet records were rewritten in this 17th renewal of the annual affair.

SHOT PUT MARK.

George Witter of St. Joseph, of Atkinson, tossed the shot 50 feet, 5⅛ inches to set aside the 48-10 mark by Gordon Lucht of Grand Island in 1942.

Herman Person of Columbus sailed through the low hurdle race in :23.9 to replace the :24.1 mark set by Haberman of York in 1937.

Northeast's freshman relay team added the third record. The Rocket foursome whirled the 440-yard distance in 50 seconds to upset the :50.5 time set by Fremont last year.

Coach Bun Galloway's team was able to score 48 5/6 points, enough to open a safe distance between the Rockets and Columbus, second place finisher with 37 1/6 points. Central City and Omaha Benson were close third and fourth place teams.

NE WINNERS.

Individual winners for Northeast included Hoyt Hultberg, who leaped 5 feet 11 inches to win the high jump; Keith Smith, who tossed the shot 45 feet 6¾ inches, and Gerald Bingham, who sailed the discus 125 feet 1 inch.

College View points were headed by firsts in the 440-yard relay and the varsity 880-yard relay. Bill Maly picked up a second in the 200-yard low hurdles and Verlan Rumbaugh did the same in the 440-yard dash.

CUFF NOTES from the Old Timers baseball gathering . . . Clarence Mitchell, former Brooklyn and St. Louis Card hurler, had an apt observation on the staying power of present-day pitchers . . . Mitchell hinted that managers today lack confidence in their hurlers and discourage moundsmen by filling the bullpen with relief help before the game begins . . . The Aurora, Neb., veteran recalled stretch with the Cards when he and three other hurlers went 40 games before failing to complete a contest . . . Each pitcher notched 10 nine-inning performances . . . Mitchell decided to retire from active playing this season . . . The wily southpaw began his career in 1908, so called it quits after an even 40 years . . . "It's the legs that go," he declared. . . . "My arm today is still fit and ready." . . . Mitchell was introduced by Toastmaster Sam Waugh as "the only man to make five outs in two times at bat" . . . Such was Mitchell's fate in the fifth game of the 1920 world series when his Dodger mates faced Cleveland . . . After hitting to Bill Wambsganss to allow the Indian second-baser the chance for an unassisted triple play, Mitchell batted into a two-way killing his next time up . . . Both times his line smashes went directly at Cleveland infielders . . . Mitchell laughingly reflected that he feared an investigation by Judge Landis on account of this seeming aid to the Indians . . . The 1920 series was the first after the Black Sox scandal, so competitors were under careful scrutiny . . . Business Manager Howard Gordon of the Lincoln A's, a Harrisburg, Pa., resident, spotted a vaguely familiar face at the gathering . . . Turned out to be "Hooks" Bailey of Stratton, Neb., who toiled on the mound for the Harrisburg entry in the New York-Pennsylvania league for four years . . . Bailey ran up 18 wins against seven losses for the pennant-winning Harrisburg club in 1927.

WORD from the International league is that Buffalo expects the services of Bobby Shantz in June . . . The little lefty now is resting following an operation for removal of a shoulder burr . . . Cal McIrvin, Lincoln A of 1947, took part in a wild Pacific Coast league game . . . He was the fourth of four Portland, Ore., pitchers who gave up 19 walks against San Francisco. . . . Track Coach Ike Mahoney of Boys Town was glad to come to Lincoln high for a dual meet despite the fact that it was the Dodgers' turn to serve as hosts . . . With a crew of University of Nebraska phys ed majors helping run off the events, the LHS-Boys Town dual was over in short order . . . So quick was the running and jumping that Mahoney estimated his squad could ride to Lincoln, compete and return home in less time than it would have taken to handle the meet at Boys Town . . . Jack Weisenburger, former Michigan Wolverine gridiron ace, has been ordered to Milwaukee by his Boston Brave overlords . . . The grid star originally had been slated to perform with Denver in the Western circuit . . . Among the surprise performances were the javelin thrusts by Dick Piderit and Warren Monson . . . Both rifled the spear more than 190 feet . . . Piderit had a pair of 200-plus tosses voided by foot fouls.

A's Display New Club

. . . Chamber Luncheon

Capital City baseball fans will have an opportunity to get reacquainted with Lou Limmer, Tom Kirk, Ed Boehm and other favorites from last year's team as Jimmy DeShong puts the 1949 Lincoln A's on display for the first time at Tuesday's chamber of commerce public affairs luncheon.

Tickets are available to the public at $1.00 per plate at the chamber offices, 11th and P streets.

Principal speakers, of course, will be Manager Jimmy DeShong and Business Manager Howard Gordon, with a few special remarks to be made by Cy Sherman, retired sports editor of The Lincoln Star, for whom Sherman Field was named when Lincoln entered the postwar Western league.

Officers and directors of the Lincoln Civic Baseball association, which raised the money to build the park, will be honored at the speakers table.

They are A. Q. Schimmel, Merle Rathburn, Emmett Junge, L. R. Doyle, W. W. Turner, Henry Baeke, Dick Russell, Earl Coryell, B. I. Noble and Archie J. Baley.

Elsworth DuTeau, newly appointed chairman of the Chamber's sports and recreation committee, which has just been created, will be introduced.

Also honored will be sports experts Norris Anderson of The Lincoln Star, Walter Dobbins of The Journal, Ken Greenwood of KFOR and Jack Hyland of KOLN.

President John F. Lawlor will speak briefly for the Chamber.

All the Lincoln players will be seated in a featured spot, and DeShong will introduce each man and give a thumbnail sketch about his experience and playing ability.

The luncheon Tuesday noon will be a curtain-raiser for the season's opening game, to be played that night between Lincoln and the Omaha Cardinals.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn.—(AP)—The New York Giants figuratively murdered Steve Gromek to champion Cleveland Indians.

Gromek's righthanded offerings were pasted for eight hits, including four home runs, in the second inning. Before Mike Garcia warmed up and came to the rescue the Giants had scored ten runs.

The Indians pecked away at Sheldon Jones, the Giants' starting hurler, getting six runs in the first five innings. Hank Behrmann relieved Jones in the sixth and stopped the Clevelanders cold.

WHITES DEFEAT REDS 13 TO 6 TO CLOSE SPRING PRACTICE; DEFENSE STRONG

By GEORGE MILLER
(Star Sports Staff Member)

TWO evenly matched University of Nebraska football squads brought the spring practice season to a close Wednesday as the Whites beat the Reds 13-7 in full-dress scrimmage.

Coach Bill Glassford and his assistants were not far from perfect in their efforts to split squad strength evenly. Neither side had an edge in the final performance of the six week work period.

DEFENSE STRESSED.

All point-making was confined to the third and an extra-long fourth quarter of the defensive contest. Lineplay exceeded backfield work most of the time.

If one player was to be singled out in this last appearance of the Huskers until serious preparations begin for the South Dakota opener in September, it would be Fullback Don Strasheim. The compact Kimball battering ram was driving hard all afternoon for the White team.

He was a popular choice of Quarterback Ken Fischer and responded with sizeable gains through the Red forward rampart.

Strasheim also entered the scoring column on the strength of his place kick after touchdown in the third quarter.

Fischer gave the Whites first blood near the close of the third period when he squirmed across on a quarterback sneak from the one-yard line.

FERGUSON ROMPS.

Gerry Ferguson, Scottsbluff halfback, powered the Red reply early in the fourth quarter. He lent a 15-yard run and a 26-yard gallop to a drive which carried from the Red 27 to paydirt.

Ferguson's second run left the ball on the 10-yard line. Two smashes by Freshman Jiggs Summers and a sneak by Quarterback Dutch Meyers covered the remaining distance.

FINK SCORES.

In the grace period that followed, Alex Fink boosted the White total with a four-yard wheel after taking a flanker pass from Fischer. Three Red tacklers were left clawing as the former Lincoln high ace danced into the end zone.

Strasheim's kick for the extra point was wide.

A 21-yard pass from Fischer to Don Sailors set up the last touchdown. Sailors also had a hand in the first White counter.

He traveled 10 crucial yards with an intercepted pass to give his team the ball on the Red 17-yard stripe.

Plunges by Bill Mueller and Strasheim and a pass from Fischer to Mueller moved the ball to the four-yard line. Strasheim drove straight ahead for two, then Fischer nudged across.

Rich Yost, freshman halfback from Omaha South, turned in the longest single jaunt of the afternoon. He covered 50 yards after intercepting a Fischer pass. His run took the ball to the White 20-yard line but the Red team could go no farther.

Dutch Meyer lost six yards attempting to pass after two running plays failed. A fourth down pass to End Bob Schneider did no more than regain the lost ground.

Red And Black Golf Delayed, Baseball Off

Three schedule changes have been announced for Lincoln high spring sport squads by Athletic Director Ralph Beechner.

Return of winter weather has caused postponement of the Lincoln-York golf match until Monday at York. The meet had been planned for today.

Tuesday Links golf and tennis teams will play at Fremont. Top tennis players for the Red and Black will be Walt Weaver, only returning letterman; Jim Wells, Carl Wohlforth and Darrell Harding.

The Lincoln high baseball game with Aurora, originally slated for Friday at Muny field, has been cancelled. Aurora is not fielding a baseball squad this spring. Also cancelled is the Lincoln visit to Aurora, which had been set for April 29.

Overhauling THE NEWS

BY WALLY DeBROWN

Along with the first robin, the first crocus, and the dazed look in a young man's optics, there's nothing that puts Spring in high gear like the circuses moving through the land. From now until snow threatens the big and little tops with their dazzling attractions will cover the country. And every circus is a reminder of childhood and the almost universal desire to grow up to be a clown, a wild animal trainer, a bare back rider, or a high wire performer. And the same dreams that generations of kids have dreamed will blossom again. Wonder if circus people ever get bored with their jobs?

Which reminds us that, Our Shrine Circus isn't far away. All new and bigger than ever, so if you haven't bought those tickets yet, be sure and call your favorite Shriner immediately.

Didn't Induce Farmer's Wife To Leave Home

Aksamit Testifies: Defense Nearing Close

Emil Aksamit, taking the stand in his own behalf Wednesday afternoon, testified that he had flown over the Kramer house "a couple of times in 1945" and had dropped things but had done so at the request of Louis Kramer.

Aksamit is defendant in a $25,000 alienation of affections suit brought by Kramer, a farmer living near Denton. Kramer has charged the Crete businessman made phone calls, flew over the Kramer farm home and parked his car near the house to gain Mrs. Kramer's attention.

Attorneys for Kramer rested their case shortly after the trial resumed Wednesday afternoon. Counsel for the defendant immediately moved for a directed verdict, but Judge John L. Polk overruled it.

Aksamit emphatically denied that he had ever said anything to induce the 31-year-old Mrs. Kramer to leave her husband. He testified that he and his wife had occasionally gone to dances with Mr. and Mrs. Kramer. The Aksamits are parents of four children.

Aksamit said he first learned that Kramer had sued him when he was told by a friend who had read it in the newspaper.

The manager of the airport at Crete, testifying for the defense, said Aksamit usually flies his plane on Sundays and occasionally on week days. He added that Aksamit carried passengers about 90 per cent of the time.

Witnesses for Kramer had previously testified that at different periods, Aksamit flew over the Kramer house "practically every day."

Aksamit's wife and 14-year-old son testified Thursday.

Mrs. Aksamit told the court that her husband had done favors for the Kramer family.

Forced Landing.

Gerald, 14-year-old son, said he was a passenger in his father's plane when it made a forced landing near Denton. Louis Kramer earlier testified the plane landed in the field of one of his neighbors after the engine had sputtered.

Both Gerald and his father said the plane landed because of gas trouble. The incident allegedly occurred in March, 1948.

Counsel for the defense said at recess time Thursday noon he had one more witness to call before he rested his case.

Archeological Survey Work Is Explained

...To Lions Club

Marvin F. Kivett, of the Missouri river basin archeological survey, Smithsonian institute, spoke Thursday noon before the Lions club on activities of the local office.

Most of the work now is being done near the Medicine Creek dam, where archeological and paleontological material must be salvaged as work is done, he said.

Agencies in the state co-operating in the work include the State Historical society, the state museum, and the laboratory of anthropology at the University of Nebraska.

Two-Year-Old Boy Recovering After Three Story Fall

A two-year-old boy was reported recovering Thursday at the Bryan Memorial hospital from injuries he received last Monday in a three story fall at his home.

According to witnesses, Robert Cummins, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Cummins, 6245 Colby, received a fractured skull and injured back when he fell out of a third story window at his home.

"Robert apparently walked right out the window," one witness reported. Hospital attendants Thursday reported Robert's condition as "good."

Prowlers Enter Prescott School; Ice Cream Missing

The Prescott school was broken into sometime Tuesday afternoon, police reported, but in spite of the fact that the prowlers apparently got the keys from the principal's office and went through all second floor rooms, nothing was taken but a few ice cream bars stored on the second floor.

The building was entered through a window on the west side of the building by removing the screen, and breaking a small pane of glass and unlocking the window. E. H. Wren, custodian, reported the incident to police.

May Slayer Is Confined To 'Jail' At Pen

For Possession Of Knife, Benzedrine

Charles McClelland, serving a life sentence at the state penitentiary for murder, has been confined to the prison "jail" after a knife and quantity of benezedrine were found in his possession, Warden James Jones said Thursday.

Warden Jones said McClelland would not tell where he had obtained the articles, but the knife "looked like one of those used in the prison dining room."

McClelland is serving a double life sentence for the May slayings west of Omaha in 1947. He was placed in the isolation cell for 30 days.

We often sit and think of you,
And think of how you died;
To think you could not say "Good Bye,"
Before you closed your eyes.
No one knows our longing,
And no one sees us weep;
We shed our tears from an aching heart,
While others are fast asleep.
Sadly missed by Mom and Dad,

The 7 Time Want Ad
Rate Is 29% Lower
Than The 1 Time Rate!

The Want Ad rate for 10 words for 1 time, Sunday or daily, is 40c. The rate for 10 words for 7 times is $2.00, so you pay only 28⅝c per day on the 7 time rate. This is 29% lower!

There are many other advantages in ordering your Want Ad for 7 times. With a one day only ad, if your deal isn't closed from ad prospects, your chance to make a sale is gone until you can place another ad at the higher 1 day rate.

With a 7 time ad you will get prospects from The Morning Journal, The Evening Journal, The Evening Star and the big Sunday Journal & Star assuring you of good results. You may always cancel your ad when you get results and pay only for the number of days the ad runs. The Journal & Star 4 day rate is economical too, 25% lower than the 1 time rate!

Quake In West Leaves 8 Dead

Scores Injured In Pacific Northwest Jolt: Red Cross Will Aid In Rebuilding Homes

SEATTLE—(AP)—Eight were counted dead, scores injured and a preliminary damage estimate set as high as $10,000,000 today in the earthquake which jolted the Pacific northwest yesterday noon.

The estimate, which he emphasized as "purely tentative, was furnished by Washington Gov Arthur B. Langlie. Basing his conclusion of preliminary reports from the state patrol, the Red Cross and other agencies, the governor set a flexible figure of $2,000,000 to $10,000,000.

The shock struck at 11:55 a. m., yesterday.

Bricks showered off cornices and building facings; chimneys toppled from residents and industrial plants; plate glass cracked and shattered; roads sagged and split, moving automobiles rhumbaed and many parked machines were battered and dented by falling masonry.

Houses Fall Into Sound.

Two small, unoccupied houses on Fox island, near Tacoma, Wash., were dumped into Puget sound.

Cities from Vancouver and Victoria, B. C., in the north, southward to Oregon towns in the Salem area felt the quake. Scientsts rated it of No. 8 intensity, which compares to a No. 12 or total destruction quake.

A Red Cross official said not a single person had applied in the Seattle area for aid for injuries, but that Red Cross funds would be forthcoming to rebuild home damaged by the quake, on a basis of individual need.

Hotels Evacuated.

John Calkins, Red Cross field director, augmented his headquarters at Olympia, where the need for housing was underscored by the evacuation of hotels and motels.

Gov. Langlie said: "Everyone is going to have to pitch in and do what he can."

Olympia was especially hard hit. The old capitol building and the Insurance building were the most severely damaged, and were ordered closed. Six other state buildings were shaken and cracked, but inspectors said they still were sound.

Two of the quake dead were in Olympia.

Tacoma, 30 miles south of Seattle, reported "scores and scores" were treated for shock, bruises and other minor hurts. Many downtown buildings, including the Bankers Trust building, were ordered evacuated. The Lowell school was roped off because its steeple had shifted.

Trains Run Late.

The Holy Rosary church, probably the highest in Tacoma, was closed, as its cross was in imminent danger of collapsing.

Trains ran late between Seattle and Portland, bypassing the Narrows route at Tacoma where quake-caused slides were not expected to be cleared until sometime today.

Two men were hospitalized from injuries at the Narrows bridge tower, where a 23-ton "saddle" fell and sunk a scow. The "inx" bridge blew down in a 1940 wind storm and is being rebuilt.

Water Geysers.

At Puyallup, also near Tacoma, geyers of water appeared suddenly during the shake in a four-block area. There were no water mains in the vicinity. A woman was injured, not seriously, when the third floor of the Stewart apartment in Puyallup collapsed.

In Seattle a preliminary listing showed 75 buildings which suffered quake damage for amounts estimated up to $50,000 apiece.

"How did the quake affect you?"

There were scores of versions, and today the stories were snowballing with embellishments. But one mute testimonial came from a doll show being held at a downtown department store here.

Some 3,000 dolls, valued at more than $100,000, were on display. After the quake a checkup showed only two were damaged. One doll's head was shattered, but the other damaged doll can be repaired.

List Of Dead

SEATTLE — (AP) — Eight persons died in the earthquake which shook the Pacific northwest yesterday.

They were:

Jack Roller, 18, Castle Rock, Wash., struck by falling masonry, in Longview, Wash.

Marvin Kleqman, 11, Tacoma, crushed by falling brick in the collapse of a Tacoma school.

Mark Kuveric, about 70, Centralia, crushed under the collapsing store front.

Alfred Welander, 60, of Seattle; Mrs. C. W. West, Olympia; Abraham Hedstrom, Seattle, and Konrad Sorenson, 71, Cosmopolis, all victims of heart attacks.

Two Doctors Honored For 50 Years Service

The tribute was appropriate Wednesday night as two Lincoln physicians were eulogized for their great service and devotion to mankind during 50 years practice in the medical profession.

Drs. H. W. Orr and I. C. Munger, sr., who are both observing their 50th year of practice, were honored at the Country club at a staff dinner of Lincoln General hospital. Drs. Orr and Munger are now emeritus staff members of the hospital, having served there since it opened in 1923.

"Outstanding Doctors."

The tribute to Dr. Munger was given by his son, Dr. I. C. Munger, jr. of Vancouver, Wash., and brother Dr. A. D. Munger. The brother chided "I. C." as an "itinerant doctor" but concluded by calling him "one of the outstanding men of the profession."

Dr. Munger has practiced in Lincoln since 1917. He began his practice at Farmersburg, Ia., in 1899 and later went to Wisconsin, coming to Nebraska in 1906. He set up his practice here at Elmwood where he stayed until 1912. He moved to Cozad where he remained until 1917, then came to Lincoln.

During World war I he was a member of the army medical corps at Fort Riley, Kas. He is a member of the American, Nebraska, and Lancaster County Medical associations, and a fellow of the American College of Surgeons. He is also a member of the surgical staff at Bryan Memorial hospital.

In a short reply Dr. Munger said the secret to success in the medical profession is simple but extremely difficult. His advice to younger members in the profession was to practice "horse sense" and "stick-to-itism."

Drs. J. E. M. Thomson and Frederick Teal paid the tribute to Dr. Orr and reminisced about their work with him. Both cited Dr. Orr as having achieved international fame. Dr. Thomson said Dr. Orr is the most notable authority on compound fractures and orthopedic surgery.

Lauds Pioneers Of Profession.

In his response, Dr. Orr reminded the 75 physicians and surgeons present not to forget the great service rendered by the "pioneers of the profession." It was the extremely arduous work of these men who have gone before us that have made the profession what it is today, he said.

Some of those cited by Dr. Orr "to whom all of us are indebted," were Dr. J. F. Stevens, Dr. John M. Birkner, Dr. E. B. Finney, and Dr. Orr's uncle, Dr. H. J. Winnett.

Dr. Orr began his practice in 1899 in Lincoln after receiving his degree at the University of Michigan, having formerly attended the University of Nebraska. In 1908, he and Dr. J. F. Stevens began their medical inspection program in the Lincoln public schools. When the state orthopedic hospital opened in 1906, he was assistant surgeon, and in 1911 he became head of the hospital.

Used Orr Method.

He served with the A.E.F., in the first World war where he won recognition for the application of what was later known as the "Orr method" of treating wounds and fractures. For three years following his return to Lincoln, he was commanding officer of the 110th medical regiment of the Nebraska national guard.

After the war he became chief surgeon for the state orthopedic hospital, where he is now senior consultant. He was chief of the orthopedic surgery department at Lincoln General from the time it opened until becoming an emeritus staff member only recently.

A former president of the American Orthopedic association, Dr. Orr has been president of the Central States Orthopedic society and of the State Medical association. A son, Dr. Douglas W. Orr, a psychiatrist in Seattle, Wash., was unable to attend the honor dinner.

Attorney Earl Cline served as toastmaster for the dinner and introduced the honored guests and speakers.
